All corporate powers, rights and privileges suspended or forfeited prior to June 12, 1939, may be revived and restored to full force and effect by the payment of all accrued taxes due to the State under Sections 3694b and 3694b.1 of this code as they read prior to their repeal, together with the penalties thereon, and also, in addition thereto, a sum of money equal to the tax last assessed under the provisions of said sections of this code, [for each year succeeding the year in which such tax was levied, and to the time of such revivor. "Year" within the meaning of the preceding sentence is hereby defined as the period between the first Monday in March of any calendar year and the first Monday in March of the following calendar year.] together with the penalties thereon. Application for restoration shall be made by any stockholder, or by any member or partnerholder of the corporation if the corporation is a nonstock company, or any creditor of the corporation or by a majority of the surviving trustees or directors of the corporation, and the application shall be filed with the State Controller.

Upon payment of all such taxes and penalties the State Controller shall issue a certificate under his seal evidencing such payment and restoration, which certificate when recorded in the office of any county recorder shall constitute a release of all existing liens for such taxes upon the property of such corporation. Each county recorder shall keep an index of all such Controller's certificates recorded by him. Upon presentation of such Controller's certificate of revivor to any county clerk said officer shall make a record thereof in his office in a book kept for such purpose. The record so made by said county clerk shall be prima facie evidence of the restoration to such corporation of all previously suspended or forfeited rights, powers and privileges unless it appears from the records in the office of such county clerk or of the Secretary of State that subsequent to the date of such certificate of revivor the powers of said corporation have been suspended or its right to do intrastate business forfeited.

A foreign insurer whose right and privilege to transact intrastate business in this State have been forfeited prior to June 12, 1939, may be relieved from such forfeiture and its right and privilege to transact business in this State restored upon complying with the provisions of this section.

[The Controller may, on or before the thirtieth day of April next following the delinquency of any tax imposed upon insurance companies under the provisions of Article XIII of the Constitution and sections of this code enacted to carry the same into effect bring an action in a court of competent jurisdiction in the county of Sacramento in the name of the people of the State of California, to collect any delinquent taxes, together with any penalties which have not been paid in accordance with the provisions of this code and appearing delinquent upon the record of assessment of insurance companies hereinbefore mentioned, and such actions shall be tried in the county of Sacramento unless the court, with the consent of the Attorney General, order a change of place of trial.

The Attorney General must prosecute such action, and the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to service of summons, pleadings, proofs, trials, and appeals are applicable to the proceedings herein provided for. In such action a writ of attachment may be issued, and no bond or affidavit previous to the issuing of said attachment is required.

In the case of companies whose right to do business has been forfeited or corporate powers suspended, service of summons may be made upon the persons provided for by law to be served as agents or officers of any of such companies and such persons shall be deemed to be the agents of such companies for all purposes necessary in order to prosecute such action. In the case of corporations whose powers have been suspended, the persons constituting the board of directors thereof shall have the power and right to defend such action. Payment of the amount of the judgment recovered in such action must be made to the State Controller.

In such actions the Record of Assessments of Insurance Companies, or a copy of so much thereof as is applicable in said action, duly certified by the Controller, or by the secretary of the State Board of Equalization, showing unpaid taxes against any company, person or association assessed by the State Board of Equalization, is prima facie evidence of the assessment of such taxes, the delinquency thereof, the amount of the taxes and penalties due and unpaid to the State, and that the company, person, or association is indebted to the people of the State of California in the amount of taxes and penalties therein appearing unpaid, and that there has been compliance with all the requirements of law in relation to the assessment and levy of such taxes.]

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication was received and read, and on motion of Senator Crittenden, ordered printed in the Journal:

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF., April 30, 1941.

Honorable Bradford S. Crittenden

Member of the Senate, State Capitol, Sacramento, Calif.

This in answer to your telegram today concerning purported statement of Building and Loan Commissioner Evans that if Senate Bill No. 1078 becomes law my department will not provide him with counsel of ability and capacity to properly represent him. There is no foundation in fact for this statement. Commissioner Evans has never wanted my office to have knowledge of his activities and has for reasons of his own deliberately refused to consult us. I consider that I am as capable of employing men of ability and capacity as is the Building and Loan Commissioner. It is fundamentally wrong to permit an officer with the arbitrary powers of the Building and Loan Commissioner to circumvent the elective chief law officer of the State for his own personal interests.

EARL WARREN, Attorney General

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication was received and read, and on motion of Senator Fletcher, ordered printed in the Journal:

Mr. President, and Members of the Senate

Referring to the favorable action of the Senate in ordering the printing in the Senate Journal on April 2d, of the coercive, intimidating telegram I received from Engineers Local 526 of San Diego, and the six or seven thousand telegrams San Diego County Legislators received within a 24-hour period, protesting Senate Bills Nos. 877 and 975, the so-called hot cargo and secondary boycott bills, will say:

You have in the official record the opinion of our Legislative Counsel stating that two laws were violated, which fall under the condemnation of both Sections 35 of Article IV of the Constitution, and Section 85 of the Penal Code.

I feel it my duty to call your attention to another violation of law in the sending of six or seven thousand telegrams, costing approximately $6,000. Only five or six forms were used. I have definite information that representatives of the Labor Temple in San Diego sent in a list of names to the telegraph company without the authority or knowledge of the persons whose names were attached to the telegrams. The cost of the sending of these telegrams was charged to the Labor Temple. Each telegram to be paid for at the regular tariff price list of from 80 cents to $1 each.

With the approval of those in authority in the Senate, I sent communications at State expense, to every one whose name was attached to the telegrams sent me, asking if he had knowledge of, and approved the sending; also if he paid for the sending of such telegram. I attached a return post card addressed to myself in Sacramento reading, "I did, or did not send this telegram" "I did, or did not pay for it." After waiting two weeks since replying to the 1,348 telegrams sent me my report is as follows:

One hundred twenty-eight have officially stated they have no knowledge of, or did not authorize the sending, or pay for any telegram to me. One hundred one stated they had, but 10 out of the 101 said they did not pay. Over 1,000 have failed to answer, which according to the notation on the card would mean "no" as the card read: "No reply will mean you did not authorize telegram." While many have been returned marked "unknown."

Attached hereto is a legal opinion from Legislative Counsel, dated April 14th, stating as follows: "In the situation stated there is a clear intent to deceive the receiver of the telegram"; also it says, "It is not necessary to allege or prove injury to the receiver. It is sufficient to charge the offense in the language of the statute. There may be an injury to either the sender or receiver. This matter being a violation of the Penal Statutes is one which may be begun by any person concerned by complaint to the district attorney." If there is a conviction the crime is punishable by imprisonment in the State prison not exceeding five years, or in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by fine not exceeding $5,000, or both such fine and imprisonment.

The labor paper published in San Diego on April 4th, on the front page printed in part, the following: "More than 6,500 San Diego union members sent telegrams to Legislators in Sacramento last Friday and Saturday, urging them to defeat several anti-union measures." As the same five or six forms were used in sending 6,500 telegrams to the four San Diego County representatives there is every indication that only 101 persons even knew or participated in the sending of 6,500 telegrams to San Diego Legislators at Sacramento within a 24 hour period.

I have many letters from conservative labor members whose names were used without their knowledge, vigorously protesting such tactics, urging me to get the facts, make them public, and report to them the true situation, which I shall do. I know patriotic labor constituents do not countenance this un-American, unlawful, method of lobbying. These violations are the acts of racketeers who are exploiting labor.

It is not with pleasure, but rather in regretful performance of a duty that I present this matter to the State Senate that the record may be printed in the Journal and for such action as the Senate may see fit.

ED FLETCHER

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, April 14, 1941

Honorable Ed Fletcher, Senate Chamber
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

SUBJECT: False Telegrams

REQUEST: No. 2429

DEAR SENATOR FLETCHER: We have your request relative to a telegram sent you March 27, 1941, purporting to be signed by Constance H. Simmons of San Diego, together with her reply post card in which she states that she did not send nor pay for the telegram.

This statement of facts appears to come under the provisions of Section 474 of the Penal Code, which reads as follows:

"474. False or forged telegraph or telephone message: Punishment. Every person who knowingly and wilfully sends by telegraph or telephone to any person a false or forged message, purporting to be from a telegraph or telephone office, or from any other person, or who wilfully delivers or causes to be delivered to any person any such message falsely purporting to have been received by telegraph or telephone, or who furnishes, or conspires to furnish, or causes to be furnished to any agent, operator, or employee, to be sent by telegraph or telephone, or to be delivered, any such message, knowing the same to be false or forged, with the intent to deceive, injure, or defraud another, is punishable by imprisonment in the State prison not exceeding five years, or in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by both such fine and imprisonment."

It has been held to be an element of the offense charged in this section that the sender, communicating the false or forged telegram had the intent to deceive, induce or defraud another, but it is not necessary to allege or prove injury to the receiver. It is sufficient to charge the offense in the language of the statute. People vs. Diamond, 34 Cal. App. 2d 542. People vs. Diamond, 140 Cal. 116.

In this situation stated, there is a clear intent to deceive the receiver of the telegram. Whether there is any injury is a matter difficult to settle, but as intention was under the previous acts. There had to be intent to cause the sender or receiver. However, damage to reputation or a matter of this kind is extremely difficult to show and probably too remote to be exceptions of legal proof.

This matter being a violation of the penal statute, it was found that he began to use means intended to accomplish the stated offense.

Very truly yours,

(Signed)

FRED L. WOOD, Investigative Counsel
By JAMES L. KILPATRICK, Assistant Counsel

Individual prunes shall be considered as failing to meet the foregoing requirements

(a) When they show calloused growth cracks aggregating more than three-eighths inch in length or open to the pit.

(f) When the external appearance of the fruit is strikingly different from the normal appearance of its variety and district of growth for the season.

(g) When the condition of the fruit by reason of being porous, fibrous, woody, immature or fermented indicates that the normal food value or flavor is substantially damaged.

SEC. 4. Section 806.8 is hereby added to said code, to read as follows:

To facilitate enforcement of this provision the director may establish packing periods, not longer than 12 months in duration, which shall be the basis of comparing the quantities purchased and the quantities packed out. Such packing periods need not be identical throughout the State if the director finds that different periods are desirable in order to meet different local conditions."

SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY DISTRICT, MADERA, April 26, 1941

Honorable Ellis E. Patterson, Lieutenant Governor

President of the Senate

State of California

Sacramento, California

DEAR SIR: The following resolution was unanimously adopted by the San Joaquin Valley District, California Federation of Women's Clubs in convention assembled in Hanford, California, on April 22, 23, 24, 1941:

"WHEREAS, It is the intent and purpose of certain 'pressure groups' to cause the initiation of legislation in the California State Legislature purposed to abolish the California State Senate; and

WHEREAS, It is the announced intention of the advocates of this program to press for enactment of this legislation as soon as possible; and

Resolved, That the San Joaquin Valley District of the California Federation of Women's Clubs register its disapproval of the aforesaid legislative program, and that a copy of this resolution be delivered into the hands of the President of the California State Senate."

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication was received and read, and on motion of Senator Myhand, ordered printed in the Journal:

Wanted, a United Nation

Zach Lamar Cobb, Chairman of the Garner for President Committee in California last year, who later opposed the third term by supporting Willkie and Democratic Congressmen in the general election, spoke today before the Democratic Luncheon Club at its meeting in the Rosslyn Hotel. Mr. Cobb spoke on the subject of Wanted, a United Nation, in part, as follows:

This is the oldest and best Democratic club in California. Having been a member of the club for many years, I am particularly happy today to address you on the subject of Wanted, a United Nation.

You know, and I do not seek to avoid, the fact that I supported my friend, that grand Texas Democrat, John N. Garner, for the Democratic nomination for President last year, and that later I frankly and openly opposed the third term by supporting Mr. Willkie and Democratic Congressmen. I assume that we agree that when the election was over, and Mr. Roosevelt was reelected, he entered his third term as the President of all the people, of those who opposed his third term election, as well as those who supported him.

We will not recount the horrors of war, nor the sacrifices of our own people, fighting brother against brother, in the Civil War of the 1860's, but we do know that the people of this Country will never forget the valor of the soldiers who wore both the Blue and the Gray, and the immortality of their leaders, Abraham Lincoln and Robert E. Lee. The wounds of that war have long since healed, but the saying of Mr. Lincoln will never die—that this Country could not live half free and half slave.

So, today, I come to say that America can not face the greatest crisis in our history, the crisis of the present war, we can not face the hostile philosophies across the Atlantic, and across the Pacific, nor rise above the menace of Karl Marx Socialism at home, if we stand divided—half Roosevelt and half anti-Roosevelt.

Washington, Jefferson, Jackson, Cleveland, Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson stand out among the great and good Presidents of our Country. We all expect Mr. Roosevelt to take his place among them. We can not forget, however, that great and good as men may be, the lives of the best of men are short, while this Nation must live on for centuries to come.

America has lived, and America will live, because of the spiritual inspiration that founded this Government, the spiritual quality in true American Democracy, and the spiritual fibre that is the strength of the united American people.

Great issues divide our people today. Good and true men, actuated by honest and sincere convictions, hold opposing views. These issues will be determined by events beyond human control. When they are determined, and when the decisions are made, we must have no division among the American people. We must face whatever comes as an united people.

In conclusion, I submit the humble belief that the best means of uniting our people, and of preserving our country, will be founded in a revival of faith in the American Democracy of our fathers, and in avoiding the menace of Karl Marx Socialism. American Democracy is spiritual, it is life. Karl Marx Socialism is godless, materialistic and destructive. American Democracy gave us all we have that is good. Karl Marx Socialism brought Stalin to Russia, Mussolini to Italy, Hitler to Germany and destruction to France. God inspired our forefathers in founding America. May God direct our leaders today in saving America! And may all Americans unite for the preservation of our Country, and our American Democratic faith!

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PROPOSED HIGHWAY ADDITIONS

The following Report of Committee on Proposed Highway Additions was received and ordered printed in the Journal:

April 28, 1941

*Honorable Thomas McCormack, Chairman
Senate Transportation Committee*

MY DEAR SENATOR MCCORMACK: Your Transportation Committee, on Monday, April 21, requested your Subcommittee on Proposed Additions to the State Highway System to make a study and report back its findings and recommendations concerning a policy of a proposed addition where a substitution was being made for said proposed addition.

We recommend that consideration be given to a proposed substitution providing all of the following conditions are complied with:

First: That the cost of, and the State's obligation for, maintenance of the new road is less than the State's present obligation for maintenance on the road that is being deleted.

Second: That the new road is of State benefit rather than purely local.

Third: That the new road which is to be substituted shall be now improved to a comparable status to that of the road which is to be deleted if the improvement on the latter has been accomplished from State highway funds.

Fourth: That local authorities of areas through which the road proposed to be deleted passes, indicate their consent to the deletion.

If all of these conditions are complied with, it would appear it would be good business for the State to allow a substitution. Wherever practical, the amount of road deleted should be greater than the proposed addition. Of course, the cost should be the controlling item rather than the miles involved.

Respectfully submitted.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, May 5, 1941

*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
State Capitol, Sacramento, California*

GREETINGS: I am transmitting to you herewith a copy of a message with reference to Senate Bill No. 1292 which was delivered to Senator E. George Luckey at 8:45 p.m. on May 3, 1941, on which day your Honorable Body had adjourned for the day but not for the session.

Respectfully submitted.

GOVERNOR OF CALIFORNIA

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, May 3, 1941

*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
State Capitol, Sacramento, California*

GREETINGS: I have this day delivered to the Secretary of State Senate Bill No. 1292. I objected to the appropriation made by such bill, and reduced the amount of such appropriation by appending to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the items to which I object and the reasons therefor.

In accordance with the provisions of Section 16 of Article IV of the Constitution, I am transmitting herewith a copy of such statement.

Respectfully submitted,

CULBERT L. OLSON, Governor of California

I object to the appropriation of $50,000 and hereby reduce the sum to $25,000. With this reduction I approve the bill.

My reasons for reducing the amount of said appropriation are as follows:

The total of the appropriation proposed to be made by this bill, together with other appropriations to the Senate Contingent Fund, far exceeds the total amount appropriated to the Senate Contingent Fund of previous regular sessions. This total even exceeds the unusually large appropriations made for the previous regular legislative session to cover extremely large sums spent by numerous special Senate and Joint Legislative Investigating Committees. This additional amount of $25,000 which I have approved I know is ample to cover all necessary expenditures from the Senate Contingent Fund. It is inconceivable that the normal contingent expenses that could be incurred by the Senate during the remainder of this regular session could possibly exceed the sum of $10,000, even though the session were to last another 60 days. If at a later date a still further appropriation to this fund should become necessary, I will willingly approve the same.

CULBERT L. OLSON, Governor of California

Dated May 3, 1941

MOTION TO TAKE BILL FROM THE INACTIVE FILE

Senator McBride moved that Senate Bill No. 963 be taken from the inactive file, and placed on the second reading file.

Motion carried.

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communications were received and read, and on motion of Senator Garrison, ordered printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, LEGAL DEPARTMENT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3, 1941

*Honorable J. C. Garrison, State Senator
Twenty-second Senatorial District
State Capitol, Sacramento, California*

DEAR SIR: In your letter of April 25, 1941, you ask for an opinion as to the validity of an act fixing the salary of the District Attorney of Stanislaus County and prohibiting a person occupying that office from engaging in the private practice of the law. Inasmuch as your letter indicates that you are preparing to introduce a bill with reference to the salaries of certain public officers of Stanislaus County, including the district attorney, we assume that you are contemplating the amendment of the "County Government Act" relating to the particular county concerned (Political Code Sections 4248 and 4248h). It is also assumed that you are aware of the fact that no increase in the compensation of a county officer will become effective during the current term. This is by reason of the prohibition contained in Section 5 of Article XI of the Constitution, which specifies:

"The compensation of any county, township or municipal officer shall not be increased after his election or during his term of office, * * *."

With reference to the validity of legislation affecting a single county only, which would prohibit the district attorney of that county from engaging in the private practice of the law, consideration must be given to the extent of the legislative authority set forth in the first paragraph of Section 5 of Article XI. It is there provided:

"The Legislature, by general and uniform laws, shall provide for the election or appointment, in the several counties, of boards of supervisors, sheriffs, county clerks, district attorneys, and such other county, township, and municipal officers as public convenience may require, and shall prescribe their duties and fix their terms of office. It shall regulate the compensation of boards of supervisors, district attorneys and of auditors in the respective counties and for this purpose may classify the counties by population."

It will be noted from the foregoing passage that it is entirely competent for the Legislature to classify the counties by population for the purpose of regulating the compensation of certain county officers, including district attorneys. The practice of so doing has been followed for many years by the Legislature. However, it is to be further noted that the Constitution contains no permission to classify counties for the purpose of prescribing the duties of district attorneys or other officers. On the contrary, the express provision is that the Legislature may prescribe the duties of the district attorney by general and uniform laws. A statute forbidding a district attorney to practice law is not one regulating his compensation, but rather is a law that has relation to his duties and his qualifications for office. Hence, it is my opinion that the Legislature has no power to classify counties for the purpose of prohibiting a district attorney from engaging in the private practice of the law. This means that it would be beyond the authority of the Legislature to insert such a provision in any particular County Government Bill.

This conclusion is in accord with an opinion rendered by this office under date of April 9, 1937, directed to the Honorable Harold F. Sawallisch, Assemblyman from Contra Costa County (Opinion No. NS241), copy of which is inclosed.

Very truly yours,

(Signed)

EARL WARREN, Attorney General
By JAMES H. OAKLEY, Deputy

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9, 1937

Honorable Harold F. Sawallisch

Assemblyman, Tenth District, Sacramento, California

DEAR SIR: I have before me your letter of March 23, 1937, in which you ask to be advised whether Section 4242.1 of the Political Code relating to the compensation of the district attorney in counties of the thirteenth class (Contra Costa) is valid in view of the 1933 amendment to Section 5 of Article XI of the Constitution of California.

Section 4242.1 of the Political Code reads as follows:

"The district attorney shall receive a salary of five thousand dollars ($5,000) per annum. He shall receive the compensation herein designated as full compensation for any and all services performed by him, and is hereby prohibited from engaging in the private practice of the law and is prohibited from accepting any fees, post, or position with any municipal, district, or public corporation whatsoever."

You also ask to be advised whether an amendment to that section which would prohibit deputy district attorneys in said county "from accepting any fees, posts, or position with any municipal, district, or public corporation whatsoever," would be valid.

You state that your reason for desiring such an amendment is that you have knowledge of a situation where a deputy district attorney also holds an appointive position as police judge in an incorporated city.

You inclose a comprehensive memorandum from the Legislative Counsel wherein the general problem involved is fully and carefully considered.

Section 5 of Article XI of the Constitution provides in part as follows:

"The Legislature, by general and uniform laws, shall provide for the election or appointment, in the several counties, of boards of supervisors, sheriffs, county clerks, district attorneys, and such other county, township, and municipal officers as public convenience may require, and shall prescribe their duties and fix their terms of office. It shall regulate the compensation of boards of supervisors, district attorneys and of auditors in the respective counties and for this purpose may classify the counties by population."

Prior to the amendment of that section in 1933, it was well settled that the Legislature had no power to classify counties except for the sole purpose of regulating the compensation of county officers.

Raucer vs. Williams, 118 Cal. 401

Pratt vs. Brown, 135 Cal. 649

Chitwood vs. Hicks, 219 Cal. 175

Thus in the case of

in which it appeared that the Legislature had attempted by a clause in the County Government Act to require that all moneys collected in counties of the twenty-seventh class for licenses within the limits of any incorporated city or town should be paid over by the collecting officer to the officer authorized to receive the same to be expended as therein provided, the court said at page 75:

"That act (the County Government Act) provides for the organization, classification, and powers of the counties, and the powers, duties and compensation of county officers. The organization, powers, and duties of counties and their officers is provided for in a portion of the act which is common to all the counties. Then follows a provision classifying the counties,—a duty which the Constitution imposed upon the Legislature. The sole purpose of that classification is declared by the Constitution to be that of regulating the compensation of the officers in proportion to their duties." (Const., Art. XI, Sec. 5.)

And again it was said at page 76:

"Subdivision 15 of that section fixes the compensation of supervisors, and to this is tacked on the provision which we have above quoted, and which is wholly foreign to the section, and to the purpose for which, and for which alone, the Legislature is authorized to classify counties. It is an attempt to classify counties upon a subject and for a purpose for and in relation to which the Legislature is not authorized to make any classification. Except for the sole purpose of fixing the compensation of county officers in proportion to their duties, the duty of the Legislature was and is to 'establish a system of county governments, which shall be uniform throughout the State.' (Art. XI, Sec. 4.) The attempt to make any such discrimination as that sought to be made in this case is not only in violation of the section of the Constitution last cited, but also of Article I, Section 11, and Article IV, Section 25, Subdivisions 9 and 33."

Again in the case of

Welch vs. Bramlet, 98 Cal. 219,

the court said at page 226:

"The Legislature has not the general authority to enact laws for the counties by classes, nor is it authorized to make a classification of counties for any purpose of legislation, except for the purpose of enabling it to regulate the compensation of the county officers for whose election or appointment it shall provide. (San Luis Obispo Co. vs. Graves, 84 Cal. 71.) Whenever it attempts to enact a law for one or more of the counties of the State upon subjects that it is directed to provide for by general laws, or which are to form part of a uniform system for the whole State, whether such counties are designated directly by name, or by reference to a class into which they have been placed for other subjects of legislation, it infringes these provisions of the Constitution.

And in the case of

Turner vs. County of Siskiyou, 109 Cal. 332,

the court said at page 334:

"The difficulty is not removed by the fact that the counties are classified, and that the provision applies to all counties of a certain class; because, under Section 5 of Article XI counties may be classified only for the purposes of regulating the compensation of certain public officers therein enumerated. (Dougherty vs. Austin, supra; Welch vs. Bramlet, 98 Cal. 219.) In all other respects, the Legislature shall establish a system of county governments which shall be uniform throughout the State.' (Const. Art. XI, Sec. 4.)"

And in Rauer vs. Williams, supra, the court said at page 404:

"Therefore, in the case of those municipal corporations known as counties, the Constitution permitted a classification by population only for the purpose of fixing the compensation of officers, and strictly insisted that the system of county governments should be uniform throughout the State (Const. Art. XI, Sec. 4), and that the duties of the officers recognized by this system should likewise be prescribed by general and uniform law. (Const. Art. XI, Sec. 5.) It further declared that by general and uniform laws the Legislature should provide 'for the strict accountability of county and township officers for all fees which may be collected by them, and for all public and municipal moneys which may be paid to them or officially come into their possession.'"

And again in the same case it was said at page 405:

"The essential distinction thus to be observed between the power of the Legislature when dealing with counties and that when dealing with cities, cities and counties, or towns, is that in the former case the Legislature has not general authority to classify counties by population for purposes of legislation, and is authorized to make such classification only for the purpose of regulating the compensation of county officers, while in the latter case the Constitution, recognizing the greater intricacy in the system of government of cities, and their divergent and varying needs, has permitted them to be classified by population for purposes of legislation touching their incorporation and organization."

Since the amendment of Section 5 of Article XI, in 1933, the Legislature has possessed this same power in relation to county affairs, limited, however, as before, but by that amendment further confined to the fixing of salaries of certain county officers only, namely, boards of supervisors, district attorneys and auditors, as to whom in regulating their compensation it may classify the counties by population. As to the other county officers, as well as to all deputies of all county officers, Section 5 as so amended places with the board of supervisors of the county, and not with the Legislature, the power to determine the number of such deputies and the compensation thereof.

In the matter of duties, not only of all county officers but also of all their deputies, amended Section 5 leaves the power where it was previously vested, namely, with the Legislature, to be exercised by that body by uniform and general laws applicable throughout the State and to all counties.

While the Constitution expressly authorizes the Legislature to classify the counties by population for the purpose of regulating the salaries of county officers, it does not sanction such classification for other county purposes such as the duties of county officers, nor for other purposes unless independent of the constitutional provision the classification is based upon some natural, intrinsic or constitutional distinction. Hence it was held in Chitwood vs. Hicks, supra, that a law applicable to a county of the twelfth class only, that is to say, only to one county, providing that in such county, having more than one superior judge, there should be appointed by each such judge a stenographer or secretary, was special legislation and unconstitutional. On the other hand, it was held in Noel vs. Lewis, 35 Cal. App. 658, that an act creating the office of secretary to the superior court and making the same applicable to "all counties and cities and counties having a population of 300,000 and over" was constitutional, there being in the view of the court something in the matter of such population which sanctioned the action of the Legislature in making such provision apply where such population existed. It will, however, be noted that the Legislature there in question was not dealing with county officers, their compensation, duties or deputies.

From what has been said it would follow that the provision of Section 4242.1 of the Political Code fixing the salary of the district attorney at $5,000 per annum and declaring that said compensation shall be in full for any and all services performed by him are valid. However, the remaining provisions in said section prohibiting the district attorney from engaging in the private practice of law and from accepting any fees, post or position with any municipal, district, or public corporation, are in our opinion unconstitutional. These latter provisions do not relate to his compensation as district attorney but rather to his duties and qualifications, matters which, as we have said are to be dealt with "by general and uniform laws", applicable, according to the cases cited, throughout the State.

What has been herein said in respect to this last matter in relation to the district attorney would be equally true as to such legislation with reference to a deputy district attorney.

For your information I enclose herewith a copy of Opinion 9889 rendered to the Honorable Francis P. Healey, District Attorney of Contra Costa County, on April 18, 1935, wherein we expressed the view that the requirement by a board of supervisors that a deputy district attorney, as a condition of service, shall not engage in private practice, would be an assumption of power exclusively reserved to the Legislature and would be illegal. But as I have indicated, any act of the Legislature designed to prohibit a deputy district attorney from accepting other private or public employment would be required to be general and uniform. In addition thereto I may say that if, and in so far as, the matter might be held to relate to the compensation of a deputy, it would not be one upon which the Legislature might legislate, but in that case the board of supervisors of the county would have power thereover by virtue of Section 5 of Article XI.

It is my opinion therefore that the proposed amendment to Section 4242.1 of the Political Code would be unconstitutional.

As already stated, one of the reasons for your proposed amendment is that a deputy district attorney in your district also holds the position of police judge, which situation you believe should be prohibited by law. In this regard, we concur with the views expressed by the Legislative Counsel that even in the absence of any legislation a deputy district attorney may not hold the office of police judge or justice of the peace.

It is at once apparent that the offices of deputy district attorney and justice of the peace are incompatible, and hence can not be held by the same person at the same time. As pointed out by the Legislative Counsel Sections 103 and 171 of the Code of Civil Procedure prohibit a justice of the peace from practicing law before any justice in the county of his residence. It would seem obvious that a deputy district attorney could not perform the duties of his office where he was prohibited by law from going into the justice's court in a misdemeanor case or appearing in the preliminary hearing or arraignment of a defendant. Moreover, conceding that a part of the work of a deputy district attorney might be performed by some other member of the district attorney's staff, it is possible and probable that cases would originate in the court presided over by the justice of the peace before whom the district attorney or a fellow deputy representing the people would appear. It would seem obvious that in such a situation, a defendant would not get that impartial hearing to which he is entitled.

Very truly yours,

U. S. WEBB, Attorney General

SUBJECT: Private Practice by District Attorney
REQUEST: No. 2895

DEAR SENATOR GARRISON: We have your request in which you ask whether there is any reason why the Legislature may not prohibit a district attorney from engaging in private practice. Pursuant to this request, we attach our memorandum of opinion that the Legislature may prohibit private practice by the district attorney.

If we can be of any further service, please call upon us.

MEMORANDUM

Re: Prohibition of Private Practice by District Attorney

QUESTION

Is there any reason why the Legislature may not prohibit a district attorney from engaging in private practice?

OPINION

In our opinion the Legislature may provide that the district attorney shall not engage in private practice during his term of office.

ANALYSIS

We have been unable to find any decisions on the constitutionality of such laws. Provisions of this nature have been in the laws affecting several counties for a number of years without challenge. In the absence of court decisions, we must look to the Constitution for what limitations it may impose.

Article XI, Section 5, of the Constitution, reads as follows:

"The Legislature, by general and uniform laws, shall provide for the election or appointment, in the several counties, of boards of supervisors, sheriffs, county clerks, district attorneys, and such other county, township, and municipal officers as public convenience may require, and shall prescribe their duties and fix their terms of office. It shall regulate the compensation of boards of supervisors, district attorneys and of auditors in the respective counties and for this purpose may classify the counties by population * * *."

The first sentence provides that the Legislature, by general and uniform laws shall prescribe the duties of certain county officers, including the district attorney. The second sentence provides that it shall regulate their compensation and for this purpose may classify the counties by population.

If the prohibition of private practice can be sustained, it must be either a general law relating to the duties of the office, or as a matter of regulating the compensation according to the permitted classification. The Legislature has passed no general law upon the subject, and it is, therefore, necessary to consider what matters are included in the power to regulate salaries.

A number of decisions of this State prior to 1933 hold that it is the duty of the Legislature to regulate the salaries of county officers in proportion to their duties, and as a means to this end, it shall classify the counties by population. In doing this they must consider the problems of the individual counties.

Longan vs. Solano, 65 Cal. 122

Dougherty vs. Austin, 94 Cal. 601

Summerland vs. Bicknell, 111 Cal. 567

Dwyer vs. Parker, 115 Cal. 544

The constitutional amendment of 1933 limited this power to the offices of supervisor, auditor and district attorney, and provided that the board of supervisors of the respective counties should regulate the compensation of the other officers. Since then, there have been no decisions as to the result of this change. However, the same procedure for regulating salaries has been followed since the amendment.

In regulating the compensation, the Legislature may take into account all elements which make up the services of the district attorney in the county in which he is employed. Clearly, the service varies with the population and size of the county, and the amount of business he must handle. So, too, it varies with the amount of service required of him. Where he is required to be available for full time, the compensation should be greater and this may occur in a large county with many deputies or a smaller one, with no deputies. If the Legislature determines that the conditions in the county do not require full time service, it may regulate the compensation accordingly. Likewise, it may determine that a full-time position for the district attorney will best suit the needs of the county, and it may demand that he be available for county work at all times, and compensate him accordingly.

Since the Constitution permits the classification of county by population for the purpose of regulating the compensation, this is merely exercising the power granted, and the prohibition against engaging in private practice is a declaration of the amount of service for which he is compensated.

The question as to deputies is somewhat different. The salaries and duties of the deputies must be regulated by ordinance of the board of supervisors. The legislative enactment as to them is ineffective under the provisions of Article XI, Section 5, of the Constitution, and appears to be mere surplusage. The matter of private practice by the deputy would be a subject for the board of supervisors to consider in determining the compensation to be allowed.

MESSAGES FROM THE ASSEMBLY

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, May 5, 1941

MR. PRESIDENT: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the Assembly amended, and on this day passed as amended:

Senate Bill No. 1078

And respectfully requests your honorable body to concur in said amendments.

ARTHUR A. OHNIMUS, Chief Clerk of the Assembly
By ROBERT J. FINNIE, Assistant Clerk

CONSIDERATION OF ASSEMBLY AMENDMENTS

Senate Bill No. 1078—An act to amend the Building and Loan Association Act by adding thereto a new section to be numbered Section 13.16b, relating to building and loan associations; the powers of the Building and Loan Commissioner, an association or associations, and the court when the commissioner shall be in possession and whether or not he shall be liquidating its affairs; and the power of trustees appointed by the court.

The question being: Shall the Senate concur in the following Assembly amendments to Senate Bill No. 1078?

Amendment No. 1

On page 2, line 37, of the printed bill, as amended, strike out "in respect of", and insert "with respect to".

Amendment No. 2

On page 5, line 11, of the printed bill, as amended, after "court", and before the period, insert "or a different plan".

Amendment No. 3

On page 7 of the printed bill, as amended, strike out line 40, and insert "must be stayed; and the court in which the petition under this".

Amendment No. 4

On page 11 of the printed bill, as amended, strike out lines 1 to 6, both inclusive, and insert

"In any proceeding under this Section 13.16d the commissioner shall be represented by the Attorney General of the State of California or by one or more deputies of such Attorney General. During the pendency of a proceeding under this Section 13.16d the commissioner shall not employ or engage, with respect to any association directly affected by such proceeding, or with respect to the business, property or assets of any association so affected, counsel other than the Attorney General or one or more of his deputies, or any appraisers or accountants other than appraisers or accountants who are subject to the Civil Service Laws of this State, nor employ, with respect to any such association, its business, property or assets, as additional employees in this State or to replace previous employees in this State, any person who is not subject to the Civil Service Laws of this State for any position or work for which a person subject to the Civil Service Laws of this State is available, except that if the association has entered into an agreement with a labor organization for the employing of any class of employees through the labor organization, then the commissioner shall employ additional employees, or employees replacing previous employees, who fall within a classification covered by such an agreement through the labor organization."

Amendment No. 5

On page 13 of the printed bill, as amended, between lines 32 and 33, insert

"Sec. 2. The Legislature hereby declares that this act is enacted in the exercise of the police powers of this State, for the following reasons: Approximately two hundred million dollars ($200,000,000) is invested in building and loan associations in this State and such investments are held by several hundred thousand people, a large percentage of whom are persons of only moderate means and many of whom are executors, administrators, guardians, receivers, trustees, insurance companies and cemetery associations. Many of the funds of such associations were invested in long-term loans secured by real property. By reason of the recent depression, with resulting widespread unemployment and decline in rental and sales values, many borrowers from such associations were unable to meet their obligations to such associations. By reason of defaults of such borrowers, many associations have suffered heavy losses both in income and in net worth. In the absence of this act liquidation of assets of a value of many millions of dollars would be necessary. Such liquidation would impose severe hardships not only upon the borrowers and investors but also upon the public generally, by causing a marked decline in real estate values and a marked increase in tax delinquencies."

Also:

Amendment No. 1

On page 6, line 36, of the printed bill, as amended, after "approved", and before the comma, insert "and by the court declared operative".

Amendment No. 2

On page 9 of the printed bill, as amended, strike out lines 20 to 39, inclusive, and insert "ney General. In connection with any proceeding or plan under this Section 13.16d the commissioner shall not employ or engage (1) counsel other than the Attorney General or one or more of his deputies or (2) any appraiser or accountant other than appraisers or accountants who are subject to the Civil Service Laws of this State."

RECESS

At 3.13 p.m., on motion of Senator Shelley, the Senate recessed until 3.15 p.m., to hear from General Frank Aiken, Minister of Defense Coordination for the Irish Free State.

REASSEMBLED

At 3.15 p.m., the Senate reconvened.

Hon. Ellis E. Patterson, President of the Senate, presiding.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

SACRAMENTO, May 6, 1941

To the Honorable Members of the Senate of the California Legislature

GREETINGS: I return herewith, without my signature, Senate Bill No. 133, entitled:

"An act to amend Sections 124, 2500, 2506, 2555 and 2556 and to repeal Sections 2501, 2502 and 2600 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and to add Sections 2501, 2502, 2557 and 2558 and Article 2.5, comprising Sections 2559 to 2570, inclusive, Article 6, comprising Sections 2625 to 2633, inclusive, Article 6.5, comprising Sections 2635 to 2641, inclusive, and Article 7, comprising Sections 2650 to 2659, inclusive, to Chapter 2 of Division 4 of, the Welfare and Institutions Code and repealing acts and parts of acts specified herein; relating to the relief of hardship and destitution, irrespective of cause; the administration and means of financing thereof; the conditions and terms upon which assistance may be granted, prohibiting political activities in connection therewith; penalizing violations thereof, defining the purposes for which money appropriated for relief activities may be used, transferring the powers and duties of the Relief Commission and Relief Administrator to the State Department of Social Welfare, transferring the powers and duties of the State Emergency Relief Commission and the Emergency Relief Administrator to the State Department of Social Welfare and transferring relief cases to county administration."

My objections to this bill are generally and specifically as follows:

1. It is, in its last analysis, a regressive measure of public assistance which ignores the economic problem presented by mass unemployment. Its conception is that citizens displaced from employment, anxious but unable to obtain reemployment, should be classed as paupers, to receive a pauper's dole provided through a maze of legal uncertainties. The first section of the bill so characterizes it in providing that the words "needy person," as used in the act, and the word "indigent," which has always been the word used in the antiquated pauper laws, are synonymous terms. Employables are classified with helpless unemployables by this bill, and hope for their rehabilitation would be blighted by its passage.

2. The problem of mass unemployment is not only State-wide but Nation-wide, and such a bill as this, ignoring the problem and leaving public assistance for the relief which it requires largely to the administrative discretion of the several counties, would mean that the State of California admits its impotence and that it has no intention of inaugurating any constructive program that will give promise of contributing to a solution of the problem of unemployment. The fact that this problem is temporarily less acute than it was before we entered upon a war economy, involving the expenditure of billions of Federal funds in preparedness for National defense, should not cause us to lose sight of the fact that the greatest problem of Government in the maintenance of our Democracy is to find the way to provide general and continuous employment for all of its citizens able and willing to work, and at a decent standard of living. During the temporary decline in the unemployment relief load which we now experience, and may experience to a larger extent during the next two or three years with a continuance of the coordinated efforts of the State Relief Administration and the Department of Employment to procure employment of persons forced to seek Government relief, we should be planning, on a State-wide basis, for the absorption into useful and productive employment the employable unemployed (running into hundreds of thousands of cases) who must be provided for upon the termination of the Defense Program and the restoration of peace time conditions. This bill turns away from all such considerations.

3. A centralized State administration of unemployment relief, for which the people voted in adopting Article XVI, Section 10 of the Constitution, should be maintained, rather than an administration of State appropriations for that purpose by the 58 separate counties of the State, with minimum control over their independent policies and standards. County lines and provincial differences are obstructions to a comprehensive, properly standardized and equitable Unemployment Relief Program.

4. The distribution of surplus commodities and WPA produced clothing, the School Lunch Program, and the administration of the Federal Food Stamp Plan, now being conducted by the State Relief Administration under Federal guidance, and which must be done through a central State agency, would be impossible under this bill. It is no answer to say that another agency, which has no organization for this purpose, could handle these now established programs of commodity distribution to those in need.

5. The complex operations of determining eligibility, caring for need, including medical assistance, providing for employment, sponsoring work projects, administering camp care, aiding self help cooperatives, handling accounting and distributing surplus commodities, issuing Federal stamps, constitute an administrative problem of great magnitude that can be handled most efficiently and equitably by a centralized agency, integrating and coordinating the efforts of the Federal Government, the several State departments, county welfare bureaus and private agencies.

A careful analysis of the provisions of Senate Bill No. 133 leads to the conclusion that operations under it and supplementary bills would produce unending confusion and inefficiencies.

6. Civic and welfare agencies which have studied the question of a State-County Integrated Social Welfare Program from a purely administrative standpoint, are agreed on the proposition that strong State supervision would be necessary to prevent chaos in local administration. The provisions of Senate Bill No. 133 give only nominal recognition of this proposition. In one section it designates the Department of Social Welfare as a "supervising" agency. In other sections, dealing with county acceptance, involved arbitration and the removal of powers to enforce

State standards, it expressly obstructs and prevents any effective supervision by that department.

7. Section 2559 ostensibly gives the State Department of Social Welfare the power to fix for each county maximum relief case budgets and "minimum standards of relief." Nothing is said about minimum budgets. County supervisors are given power to establish their own policies within the range of these limits. This section provides that budgets shall be no more than sufficient to maintain a needy person and his dependents "in accordance with minimum living standards of the community in which he lives," but the bill does not guarantee even this minimum standard. It only makes certain that no more shall be allowed than enough to meet this minimum living standard of the community, which minimum living standard is undefined and uncertain. The possibility is also presented of two or more standards being applied in a single county of several communities.

8. Under the provisions of Section 2640 the ostensible power of the State Department of Social Welfare to establish and maintain standards under Section 2559 is qualified and weakened to the point of ineffectiveness. No budgets and standards become effective until they have been approved by the boards of supervisors themselves. If a board of supervisors refuses to approve standards established by the department, an arbitration board is provided for. To this arbitration board would be referred all disputed budgets and standards for hearing and decision. This board may then approve, reject or modify disputed budgets and standards by a majority vote. Its decision would be final and binding upon both the State Department of Social Welfare and the county. Since a board is provided for each county in which such a dispute arises, and since the decision of each local board would be final, the provisions for some degree of uniformity of standards within the limits provided in Section 2559 of the bill are practically defeated. The fact that no effective enforcement of general standards is contemplated is made apparent by Section 2641, which specifically provides that Sections 114, 115 and 116 of the Welfare and Institutions Code do not apply. These sections of the code provide, among other things, that the State may terminate grants in aid to any county if minimum standards prescribed by the Department of Social Welfare are not complied with. The elimination of these provisions practically nullifies the powers of the Department of Social Welfare to enforce rules and regulations controlling the counties in the administration of relief.

9. This bill does not define need nor does it assure the enforcement of uniform regulations governing the relief thereof which would be binding on all the counties. Any department ruling on need can be challenged by the counties and thus made subject to numerous county arbitration proceedings. Moreover, even after a standard of need is agreed upon, considerable discretion rests with county administration, as indicated by Section 2563 (which reads in part) "To secure relief under this chapter, an applicant shall prove to the satisfaction of the county, his eligibility therefor, including his eligibility as to need * * *". Under this provision it may prove extremely difficult for needy migrant workers to satisfy the interpretation of need applied by some county agents.

10. Of interest also is Section 2568 which reads: "No person shall be entitled to relief under the chapter who refuses to accept employment when the same is available, unless the county welfare director upon his own investigation certifies in writing to the board of supervisors and the department that such person was justified in refusing to accept such employment." It can not be expected that all of the county welfare directors in the State would have the same attitude toward making such certifications, particularly in situations involving labor disputes and when they are hard pressed by conflicting local interests. The result, undoubtedly, would be conflicting local policies.

11. Section 2501 provides for emergency care of persons who do not meet residential and alien requirements of the bill. Under this section, counties may provide emergency care for one period of not more than 90 days at State expense and at standards imposed by the Department of Social Welfare. If the emergency extends for more than 90 days, such persons become the sole responsibility of the county, in which case the county may determine, without supervision, the standards of relief provided. Under this section, one class of persons would receive emergency aid on a State standard, and an identical group of persons in the same county would receive assistance at a level established by the board of supervisors in the county. It would be theoretically possible to have 59 standards of emergency relief in California—one State standard and 58 county standards.

12. Section 2651 makes possible a discrimination between two classes of cases that may require medical or surgical treatment, hospital or nursing care and corrective appliances. Such persons who have a State residence but who have not acquired a county residence are a responsibility of the State. Since State money exclusively is provided for their care, it appears that the Department of Social Welfare could establish standards. Persons needing medical services, however, who have gained county residence are the sole financial responsibility of the county, and this bill specifically states that the county shall be the sole determinant of the standards of assistance they receive. As in the case above, 59 standards of care could result.

13. Because the bill allows for considerable variation in local policies, the effect would be discriminatory as between needy citizens in various parts of the State. Laws should be uniform in their operation. A man eligible for relief in San Francisco should be eligible for relief in Los Angeles County, San Diego County, San Benito County, Inyo County, and every other county in California. No other policy for the expenditure of State funds can be justified. The same statement applies to minimum standards of relief. Even if no consideration is given to the humanitarian phase, uniformity of eligibility and standards is required to prevent one county or a group of counties from throwing an unfair financial burden on other counties and on the State.

Under the provisions of this bill these situations could result:

(a) An applicant who has State residence but no county residence might apply in one county, have his application rejected and move to another county with more liberal eligibility requirements and there be granted relief. The applicant would be the financial responsibility of the State for one year, after which he would become a resident of the more liberal county, which would thereafter be responsible for its share of his support.

(b) An applicant who has a residence in one county and whose application for relief has been rejected in that county might move into another county where eligibility requirements and aid were more liberally administered. Such an applicant would be the financial responsibility of the first county for one year (although it may dispute reimbursing the aid extended by the second county) after which the applicant would become a resident of the second county; thereafter it would become responsible for the county share of his support. Even if an applicant were accepted by the first county, he may move to the second county, attracted by the fact that its relief budgets provide a better standard of subsistence.

The unfair, inequitable distribution of financial cost that could result from such movements of relief applicants and recipients are at once apparent. Such movements would inevitably be toward the counties with more liberal standards of eligibility and relief. These would be forced to bear more than their fair share of responsibility for the relief load or reduce their own standards and, incidentally, accept additions to their indigent populations.

According to figures furnished by the State Department of Social Welfare, payments for indigent aid in the counties now range from an average of $2.95 to $13.51 per person per month in family cases. If such disparity in standards of indigent relief (which can not be condoned) has operated without great confusion, it is because indigents are unemployable and without the freedom of movement enjoyed by employable persons. This bill, as heretofore noted, classifies employables as indigents and would subject them to similar disparities in county administered relief, but such disparities would encourage rather than deter them from crossing county lines.

14. This bill is in the form of a series of amendments to the indigent provisions in the Welfare and Institutions Code. Sections 2601 through 2605 are therefore applicable, although not specifically set forth.

Section 2601 provides that as a condition to the grant or continuation of aid, the board of supervisors may require as security therefor that the applicant transfer or grant to it such property or interest in property as the applicant has, or such portion thereof or estate therein or lien thereon as the board specifies and that such property shall be managed by the board. It further provides that any such property, interest or lien shall be held by the board subject to the claim of the county for reimbursement for aid granted to the applicant.

Section 2602 provides for the sale of the indigent's personal property, upon death, in connection with county claims for reimbursement.

Section 2603 provides that: "If a person for the support of whom public moneys have been expended acquires property, the county shall have a claim against him to the amount of a reasonable charge for moneys so expended and such claim shall be enforced by action against him by the district attorney of the county on request of the board of supervisors. In a proper case therefor the district attorney shall apply to the proper court for the appointment of a guardian of the person or estate, or both, of the indigent."

Whatever may be said in support of these policies as a protection to the counties when they advance aid to the chronically indigent, these provisions are in direct conflict with the policies which heretofore have prevailed in connection with unemployment relief. The theory of constitutional provisions and all previous legislation for unemployment relief has been that it is extended for the purpose of carrying distressed persons who are temporarily out of a job through relatively short periods of hardship due to that fact. It has been considered socially and economically desirable to assist them to become self-sustaining as soon as possible.

Under the present law no liens have been authorized or taken against their small belongings and no claims have been made against property subsequently acquired by them. On the contrary, it has been the policy to encourage reemployment and the acquisition of property at the earliest moment in order to rehabilitate the individual and relieve the State relief rolls.

The application of the provisions cited to needy employables would undoubtedly produce an opposite result. An indebtedness could be charged against them, as in the case of chronic indigents, for relief advanced. Liens might be taken against limited property holdings. I believe that the existence and application of such provisions to the cases of needy employables would constitute a serious handicap to their rehabilitation, their acquisition of a home and their reabsorption into normal economic enterprise.

Certainly no member of the Legislature has forgotten the difficulties encountered in the 1939 Session when less stringent lien provisions were incorporated in the Old Age Security Act. It was in the light of that unfortunate experience that such provisions were removed from that act and it would seem that considerations of a like nature should govern the instant situation, at least as it affects employables.

15. The residence provisions of this bill would change existing law as it now applies to both unemployment relief and county indigent relief. Persons who now can prove three years physical presence in the State are qualified for unemployment relief. This bill changes that provision to three years independent residence, during which time the applicant must have continuously supported himself without the help of public or private charity, friends, or even relatives, except those legally responsible for his support. Furthermore, if his residence in California began subsequent to June 1, 1940, he must prove five years independent residence. This latter provision for five years residence would, of course, also apply to unemployable indigents. There are several clauses preserving the relief status of persons on SRA aid up to March 31, 1941, but the independent residence provisions would apply prospectively to needy employables as well as unemployables. The application of the provision of independent residence as distinguished from the present policy (for employables) of three years physical presence will in the future disqualify an increasing number of applicants who would be eligible for unemployment relief under existing law.

These cases could be relieved on an emergency basis under the provisions of Section 2501, but would press in increasing numbers upon already overburdened private welfare agencies for a more permanent solution of their problem.

The complex residential provisions of this bill may not prohibit the mobility of labor necessary to care for seasonal agricultural needs and to man vital defense industries, but they would cause great confusion in the administration of relief and result in continuous controversy between the various counties and between the counties and the State.

16. It is noted that the total relief allowance provided under Section 2560 (cash or kind) is limited to $58 per month per family. Any further aid may be extended to extraordinary cases only. I have consistently opposed the establishment of such a relief ceiling. The experience with respect to such ceiling developed by the State Relief Administration under Chapters 12 and 45 of the 1940 Statutes, demonstrates the bad social policy inherent in freezing the maximum ordinary budget to the sum stipulated. However inadequate this budget maximum has been during the past year, its inadequacies would prove much greater and more harmful during this period of rising living costs.

17. Evidently recognizing the merits of a State-wide Works Program and some provision for camp care even in this proposed decentralized relief administration measure, the bill contemplates the passage of another bill designated as the "Public Works Act of 1941" apparently referring to Senate Bill No. 197 now pending before the Legislature. That bill in its present form provides for the transfer of the operation of relief camps to the State Department of Public Works and purports to provide for the employment of relief recipients on public works under the administration of that department. Employment of relief recipients could not be accomplished under that bill (Senate Bill No. 197) because, under the civil service provisions of the Constitution, neither the Department of Public Works nor any other department of the State Government, mentioned in that bill, except the State Relief Administration can legally employ any persons who are not in the State civil service. Therefore, no Works Program for the unemployed is possible under Senate Bill No. 133. It would enforce continuance of the cash dole but upon lower standards than the bare subsistence basis heretofore established.

18. This Senate Bill No. 133 is tied in with, and its last section provides, that it shall not take effect "unless the Old Age Assistance Act of 1941 is in effect on the date this bill would become effective and that this Old Age Assistance Act shall provide that the State shall bear not less than two-thirds and the counties not more than one-third of the costs of aid under the Old Age Security Law after the deduction from such costs of the amount of the Federal grant, and (ii) an appropriation for such costs shall have been made."

The subject of unemployment relief, appropriations therefor and their administration, and the subject of financing old age assistance provided for by the Old Age Security Act, are two separate subjects. Measures dealing with these separate subjects should be considered separately and on their respective merits from the standpoint of sound public policy and statesmanlike consideration of the general welfare.

The above-mentioned provision, however, prompts me to here reiterate what I have publicly announced before on many occasions, that I believe the burden of maintaining one-half of the non-Federal cost of aged aid has become too heavy on county taxpayers and that it is now possible for the State, in view of our increasing State revenues, notwithstanding a heavy State deficit, to undertake a larger proportion of the cost of old age assistance. But it is not necessary for either the counties or the State to swallow so objectionable a bill as Senate Bill No. 133 in order to provide for the assumption of a larger proportion of old age assistance by the State Government. Upon the rejection of this bill through a sustaining of this veto by the Legislature, I shall welcome, and in that event will recommend, the passage of a bill providing for payment by the State of 70 per cent and by the counties of 30 per cent of the total of California's cost of aid to the aged instead of each paying one-half of that cost as now provided in the Old Age Security Act.

In closing this veto message, it is pertinent to mention the fact that although during the past two years a veritable campaign has been conducted against the State Relief Administration, with openly hostile investigations of all its administrative agencies and employments, not one act of corruption has been found to have been committed by any person employed in that Administration. I am advised by the Relief Administrator that in the administration of the Federal Stamp Plan he discovered some time ago a few discrepancies on the part of a few minor employees, who have been dismissed and prosecuted therefor. Occasional confusions have been created in the public mind by publicity seeking individuals, whose connection with the Administration has been discontinued for the good of the service, and by some troublesome subversive elements. California has had a clean, honest administration of appropriations made for its unemployment relief. Costs of administration have been constantly reduced. The number of relief chiselers has been negligible, and the Administration's careful investigations constantly carried on to discover them have brought them to justice and prosecution.

At present the number of administrative employees is at an all-time low. This, despite the fact that reduction of WPA quotas in California have recently somewhat increased the case load. The latest available figures show that the administrative expenditures are averaging for 1941 approximately 12.5 per cent, or 2.5 per cent below the maximum fixed in the present law.

Respectfully submitted.

CULBERT L. OLSON, Governor of California

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, May 5, 1941

*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
Sacramento, California*

GREETINGS: On March 26th I advised you that the appropriation contained in Assembly Bill No. 253 was insufficient to cover unemployment relief needs for the fourth quarter of the current fiscal year and that the amount should have been $4,617,000 instead of $2,042,000 a difference of $2,575,000 (page 711 of the Senate Journal). You did not see fit to heed my recommendation and enacted this bill at the lower figure.

The present relief load of approximately 39,000 cases is 3,000 cases in excess of the best estimates of the Relief Administration and the Department of Finance, despite all efforts by the Administration and the Department of Employment to return persons on the rolls to private employment. This is due to the fact that farm employment has been delayed by stormy weather and that the Work Projects Administration quotas have been drastically curtailed, reducing the number of cases closed by the SRA to the WPA and returning many of the cases eliminated by the WPA to the SRA rolls. The WPA rolls have been reduced in excess of 14,000 cases in the past two months.

Expenditures for the month of April total approximately $2,057,000 as against an original estimate of $2,044,000. Although expenditures for direct relief total $125,000 in excess of estimates, strict economy in administration and increased collections of board from WPA workers in single men's camps have held the net increase in total expenditures to approximately $13,000. The number of employees of the Relief Administration has been reduced to 2,595 as of April 30th (including approximately 200 separated as of the termination of their vacations), and the total administrative costs have been reduced to a much lower figure than at any previous date in the history of this agency.

After reservation for April expenditures unpaid on May 1st, a balance of approximately $560,000 remains which is estimated to last until May 10th. This does not include the amount of $650,000 set aside as a Federal Stamp Revolving Fund which the Attorney General has just advised is not available for expenditure or encumbrance for any other purpose.

I therefore recommend again that an additional appropriation of $2,575,000 be granted immediately for the balance of the fourth quarter and that a separate revolving fund be appropriated to release the $650,000 mentioned above. It appears that the first item can be best accomplished by Assembly Bill No. 1910 and the second by Senate Bill No. 1165. One or both of these bills must be enacted into law by May 7th to prevent the stoppage of relief disbursements.

You are therefore advised that:

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 1910

"An act making an appropriation for the relief of hardship and destitution due to and caused by unemployment, and to provide that this act shall take effect immediately", and

SENATE BILL No. 1165

"An act to add Section 2.5 to the California Unemployment Relief Act of 1935, establishing a revolving fund for use in the operation of the Federal Stamp Plan, making an appropriation therefor, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately", in my opinion constitute emergency bills within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await final enactment of the Budget Bill.

Respectfully submitted.

CULBERT L. OLSON, Governor of California

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered:

By Senators Phillips, Jespersen, Breed, Parkman, Seawell, Brown, McCormack, Waggy, Judah, DeLap, Tickle, Myhand, Rich, Keating, Biggar, Crittenden, Kenny, Gordon and Fletcher:

Senate Resolution No. 106

Relative to finances of the State, Budget and tax reduction

WHEREAS, It is our sincere belief that California is approaching a crisis in its history; and

WHEREAS, In this crisis, the finances of the State, as well as its economic, social and human factors, will be required to stand their greatest test; and

WHEREAS, It is necessary that this situation be separated from all political considerations and fully understood by the citizens of California; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the members of the California State Senate, That we adopt the following statement on the subjects of tax reductions, on economy, on the Budget and on special appropriations:

We state first that the adoption of the resolution providing for a Legislative Budget Adviser should be one of the most urgent matters before the present State Legislature. This, in our opinions, will provide us with the necessary information and advice in the future to meet the problems referred to in the memorandum.

ECONOMY. We urge simple economy as the most important matter before the Legislature. The daily headlines should convince every reader that the Federal Government is laying a staggering debt on the taxpayers. From 1933 to 1941, without the $1 billions just voted, the Federal debt has increased from 22 to 49 billions of dollars. California's share of the increase is greater than the total of all State income for the past seven years. Whether the war ends quickly or continues, it is unlikely that we shall see a reduction of this program for years to come.

The world, as we have known it, is coming to an end in Europe. We face the likelihood of changed standards in the United States. It is the obligation of every thoughtful member of the Legislature to defend, by his votes and his actions, what we proudly call the "American Way of Life."

This is not an empty phrase. The American Way of Life means a good living, against the unbelievable living conditions of Germany, France, Russia or Italy, even through the past 10 years. It means recognition of the rights of the men and women who work, as compared with national socialism under any name, by which men and women are regimented, and controlled. It means educational opportunities which would be unknown and unbelievable to the citizens of other countries. It means care for the aged, and the blind, and the orphans, and the tuberculous. It means freedoms of thought, and of speech, and of assembly, and of the press and the radio. It means an asylum for peoples from the nations where these freedoms no longer exist, and from countries where they never existed.

We state that the influence of the Legislature of this State should be directed to the solution of California's part of this tremendous and tragic problem.

Economy must become a matter for practical and serious thought. A Legislative Budget Adviser must begin his work soon, to the end that every unnecessary item of expense, big or little, may be eliminated, so that the resulting economies may accrue to the taxpayers who can then apply these savings upon the staggering increases in taxes which will result from defense spending.

BUDGET. The preparation of a State Budget of the size of the California State Budget is a highly technical problem. Members of the Assembly have worked conscientiously on the present Budget. Their work has shown the possibilities of economy and the difficulties of a budget revision under present-day methods.

TAX REDUCTIONS. A wise family pays its bills and prepares for the future during such times as its income is rising and when the income is greater than the desired expenses. The State of California is only a multiple of its separate families. Today the projected deficit is approximately fifty million dollars ($50,000,000). The urgent need of remodeling the institutions and of making certain necessary improvements and additions is a matter of common knowledge and desire. The wise family would pay its debts and make these repairs before it talked of cutting down its income or before this income were to be cut down by some outside influence.

We who vote to adopt this statement are all for tax reductions, but only when we know that these reductions can be made safely, and only after we have paid our debts, and repaired our institutions.

Four years ago this institutional need was so great that a bond issue of twenty million dollars ($20,000,000) was suggested. Those of us who were then in the Legislature opposed that suggestion. We felt incomes were rising, including the State's income. We said the time would come shortly when we could make these additions and repairs out of our tax income. We can not now break that promise.

We pledge ourselves to see that the income of the State, not used for its most necessary expenses, is applied to the reduction of the present deficit. We will support the creation of a plan of expenditures to prepare for the eventual let-down in business, and to remodel and enlarge the institutions. We will include in that plan urgently needed improvements in our schools and colleges, as well as imperative flood control projects.

When these expenditures are made, and not before, we will consider and vote for tax reductions. We will then know how long this rising income will last. We do not know that now. War is an uncertain factor in government economy. The current talk of tax reduction is based on no more certain a factor than that the present war in Europe, and the defense program in this country, have increased the momentary income of the State.

SPECIAL APPROPRIATIONS. We will vote for those special appropriations which fall under the following classifications: (1) those which for some technical or other reason could not be included in the Budget at the time it was made up and which justify a separate supporting vote; and (2) those which can be included in the "plan" referred to above, which should list all appropriations the Legislature feels are warranted, under the emergency conditions of the present and of the immediate future, and upon which the taxpayers' money should properly be spent, when, as and if the rising State income has paid off the present deficit. This plan can prepare for the future; if the increasing income continues, the plan will be ready.

Governments, and forms of government, can be changed by taxation, as well as by revolution. They can be changed by unemployment. They can be lost by a lack of foresight, or the courage to support this foresight. These things are in our minds as we adopt this resolution.

"SEC. 8. Section 101 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 101. No modification of the benefits provided herein shall be made on account of any amounts payable to a beneficiary, as defined herein, under [the Workmen's Compensation, Insurance and Safety Act of the State of California] Division 4 of the Labor Code, except that the portion of any retirement allowance or death allowance which is provided by contributions of the State or of a contracting city and which is payable by the retirement system because of the death or retirement of any member of the California Highway Patrol or of any city policeman or city fireman, as a result of injury or illness arising out of and in the course of employment, shall be reduced in the manner hereinafter described, by the amount of any benefits, other than medical benefits, payable to or on account of such member under [the Workmen's Compensation Insurance, and Safety Act of the State of California] Division 4 of the Labor Code, because of his death or the disability resulting in his retirement.

If said benefits under [said Compensation Act] Division 4 of the Labor Code shall run concurrently with said allowance hereunder and shall be due the beneficiary in payments which are equal to or less than said portion of the retirement allowance or death allowance, then said portion shall be reduced each month by the amount of said benefits so due during said month, and the beneficiary shall have no more right to such reduction than if the retirement system had never existed.

If said benefits under [said Compensation Act] Division 4 of the Labor Code shall run concurrently with the allowance hereunder and shall be due to the beneficiary in payments which are greater than said portion of the retirement allowance or death allowance, then payment of said portion shall be withheld until the total of the amounts so withheld shall equal the total of said benefits paid, and the beneficiary shall have no more right to such amounts withheld than if the retirement system had never existed.

It is the purpose of the preceding paragraphs of this section to reduce the portion of the retirement or death allowance payable from the retirement fund and which is provided by contributions of the State or by a contracting city, by the amount of benefits, other than medical benefits, due to the beneficiary concurrently with said portion, under [said Compensation Act] Division 4 of the Labor Code, and the payment before due date by the commutation through compromise or otherwise of such benefits shall not prevent the reduction of said portion, as provided in this section, in the amounts which would have been payable concurrently with the retirement allowance in the absence of such commutation.

If any benefits, other than medical benefits, shall have been paid under [said Compensation Act] Division 4 of the Labor Code because of a permanent disability, concurrently with payments of wages or salary, to said beneficiary, then payment of said portion of the retirement allowance or death allowance shall be withheld until the total of the amounts so withheld shall equal the total of such benefits paid because of the permanent disability, and the beneficiary shall have no more right to such amounts withheld than if the retirement system had never existed. Said benefits which are payable for time during which salary is not paid and prior to the effective date of the retirement or death allowance, shall not be considered hereunder.

If an injury, known to result in the retirement of and or the death of a member of the California Highway Patrol or of a city policeman or city fireman, is the proximate consequence of the act of a person other than his employer, the retirement system shall have the right to recover from said person an amount which shall be the actuarial equivalent of the benefits for which it shall be liable because of said injury and or death, and said right shall be determined under the provisions of [Section 26 of the Workmen's Compensation, Insurance and Safety Act.] Chapter 5 of Part 1, Division 4 of the Labor Code. Any claim in favor of the retirement system, now pending or which shall arise under this paragraph, may be settled and compromised, and the proceeds of such settlement and compromise shared between the retirement system and said retired employee, or person entitled to benefits under the retirement system because of the death of said employee, in such amounts as may be recommended by the President of the Board of Administration, and approved by the Attorney General. Said retirement system may join with the employer and/or its compensation insurance carrier in any proceeding under said section, and any amount recovered by any of the parties shall be applied first on the amounts which the employer or its insurance carrier shall have paid or become obligated to pay, and second, on the amounts which the retirement system shall have paid or become obligated to pay.

Amounts by which retirement and death allowances are reduced and amounts recovered from third persons under the provisions of this section shall be paid by the retirement system to the Motor Vehicle [Fund] Support Fund, or any other fund out of which the compensation of members who are also members of the California Highway Patrol is paid, or to the contracting city in the case of a city policeman or city fireman."

At the invitation of the President, prayer was offered by Rev. A. Raymond Grant.

Eternal Spirit, who art at home in every humble and contrite heart, come to us this morning not so much because we deserve Thy visitation but because we need it.

Steady us amid these turbulent days. May we seek no exemption from the burden bearing of the world. Amid the shattering events and tempestuous emotions of our time, keep in our souls an inner sanctuary, inviolate and still. Give us a place of swift and sure retreat within our souls, where the world's angry voices die, and Thou alone art real. There let quiet assurance come and day by day in these troubled times, help us to live from a GREAT DEPTH of being.

In the spirit of Christ.

Amen.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

SACRAMENTO, May 10, 1941

*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
State Capitol, Sacramento, California*

GREETINGS: Pursuant to the provisions of Section 312 of the Political Code of California, you are hereby notified that on the tenth day of May, 1941, at 6:15 p.m., Senate Bill No. 1052 was returned without my signature and, together with a statement of my objections thereto, was delivered to Honorable Chris N. Jespersen, Member of the Senate.

Respectfully submitted.

CULBERT L. OLSON, Governor of California

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

SACRAMENTO, May 10, 1941

*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
Sacramento, California*

GREETINGS: I am returning herewith, without my signature, Senate Bill No. 1052 entitled "An act creating the Palm Springs Winter Park Authority and prescribing the powers and duties thereof; providing for the powers and duties of the State Department of Natural Resources in connection therewith, and authorizing the Department of Natural Resources to cooperate with the authority; authorizing the authority to construct and operate systems for the transportation of persons and property to Mount San Jacinto State Park and for the improvement of the recreational facilities in said park, including the development, operation and maintenance of ski grounds and all facilities necessary or convenient for winter sports; providing for the issuance and sale of revenue bonds and providing for the use of the proceeds thereof for the purposes of this act; appropriating such proceeds and all revenues received from the operation of the projects to the uses and purposes set forth herein; declaring this act to be an urgency measure and providing that it shall take effect immediately."

My objections to this bill are as follows:

This bill creates the Palm Springs Winter Park Authority composed of five members appointed by the City Council of Palm Springs. The authority is created to furnish a tramway and other recreational facilities in connection therewith, so as to make portions of San Jacinto State Park more accessible to the public, and available for winter sports.

Portions of this bill evidence an intent that before using parts of the San Jacinto State Park, the authority created should first receive the consent of the State Park Commission, which is now vested with the jurisdiction over the entire park, and that the operation of the facilities to be provided under the bill within the park should be subject to the approval of the State Park Commission.

However, the provisions of Section 4.10 of the bill are, in my opinion, so broad as to almost wholly negate any control by the Park Commission over the parts of the park which the authority might use for the operation of its facilities. Section 4.10 reads in part as follows:

"The authority has, and is hereby granted all rights of way deemed by the authority necessary or advisable upon which to construct, locate and maintain the transportation facilities, tramways, upskis or other transportation facilities and all Winter or other recreational facilities which may be acquired, constructed or completed under this act through, over, under, on or across any property of this State, including Mount San Jacinto State Park."

While under the other provisions of the bill the facilities which might be operated by the authority under contract with the State Park Commission might be subject to the approval of the Park Commission, the facilities which could be constructed under this absolute grant of rights of way would not be subject to any approval or control. This absolute grant of jurisdiction and control over a large segment of the scenic resources of the State, without any control or supervision by the agency to which the people have delegated the responsibility of providing for the wise development of these resources, is a step to which I can not consent.

San Jacinto State Park is a part of California's State Park System, paid for with public funds matched by funds contributed from private resources. It is the responsibility of the State Park Commission to see that this natural resource is developed and maintained for the benefit of all the people of California. It is my conviction that the further development of this park and the attractions therein should continue to be the responsibility of such commission. If the development of this tramway, or other facilities in connection therewith, should be delegated to a body other than the State Park Commission, then any use of State park property by such independent body should only be granted subject to the approval of the Park Commission.

A further objection to this bill is that the authority it creates is composed entirely of members appointed by the governing body of a single city. As I have already said, San Jacinto State Park is a part of California's State Park System. Any public agency formed for the purpose of developing a road or tramway or other means of transportation to such a State park, or constructing and operating recreational facilities therein, should be an agency responsible to all of the people of California, and not one responsible only to the governing board of one city.

I am thoroughly in sympathy with the idea that such parts of San Jacinto State Park as are suitable for Winter sports purposes, should be so improved, and that the public should be furnished a means of access thereto. In doing this, a broad view should be taken as to the uses that should be made of the park by the public. Parts of this park, and the adjacent National forests, constitute primitive areas which should be preserved in their natural state, and the opening up of portions of the park for Winter sports should not be permitted to destroy the unspoiled beauty thereof. In other words, the tramway should be constructed and operated in connection with the park; not the park operated in connection with the tramway.

However, at the present time those portions of the park involved in this bill are inaccessible to all but the very few who can afford the time and expense of a horse-back trip. I believe that these portions of the park can and should be made accessible to more people of the State, and that its Winter sports possibilities can be utilized, while at the same time the natural beauties and the primitive conditions in a large part of the park can be preserved.

I have no objection to the financing of the construction of the tramway and other facilities through the issuance of revenue bonds, but I believe that before such revenue bonds are issued, a State agency should be required to carefully consider all aspects of the construction and operation of the project, and that investigations should be made as to its feasibility, in order to avoid any failure of the security. This is particularly important in view of the fact that in order to avoid failure of the project through competition it may be necessary, as provided in this bill, that no new roads excepting necessary fire trails and the like be constructed into this portion of the park as long as the revenue bonds are outstanding. It will be seen that a failure of the tramway might prevent access into the park by other means. For this reason appropriate safeguards should be set up to assure that the tramway is constructed only if it is feasible from both an engineering and financial standpoint.

I hope that another bill meeting these objections will receive your favorable consideration at this session of the Legislature, and I shall welcome an opportunity to approve the same.

Respectfully submitted.

CULBERT L. OLSON, Governor of California

Such scab is to be distinguished from scab which is more or less inconsequential and practically blends in color with the skin on the portion of the prune not affected.

"Porous, woody, fibrous, or immature" means that the appearance or texture of the flesh is noticeably different from the flesh of mature prunes properly dried, handled and processed.

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication was received and read, and on motion of Senator Mixer, ordered printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, May 13, 1941

Honorable Frank W. Mixer, Senate Chamber
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

SUBJECT: Consideration of Budget Bill
REQUEST: No. 3303

DEAR SENATOR MIXER: We are inclosing herewith a memorandum discussing the questions you asked regarding the passage of the Budget Bill.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel
By LAWRENCE G. ALLEN, Deputy

MEMORANDUM

IN RE: Enactment of Budget Bill

Under date of May 8, 1941, Assembly Bill No. 1800, the Budget Act of 1941, was passed by the Assembly by a vote of less than two-thirds of all the members elected to that House.

The Budget Bill that was introduced in the Senate, Senate Bill No. 800, is still in the Senate Committee on Finance.

Section 34a of Article IV of the Constitution provides that appropriations from the General Fund, with certain exceptions, in excess of an amount determined under a formula prescribed therein, must be passed by a two-thirds vote of all the members elected to each house of the Legislature. The section further provides that should the appropriations in the Budget Act exceed the prescribed limitations and such Budget Act be not passed by such two-thirds vote, the several items of appropriation therein shall be deemed reduced by the percentage which the excess amount of appropriation bears to the total appropriation.

Because of the provisions of this section of the Constitution, the General Fund appropriation items in Assembly Bill No. 1800, with certain exceptions, will each be reduced to approximately 22 per cent of the amount therein specified, unless the bill is finally passed by a two-thirds vote of each of the two houses.

Effect of Passage of Assembly Bill No. 1800 by Senate Without Amendment

Inasmuch as Assembly Bill No. 1800 was passed by the Assembly by less than a two-thirds vote, it is clear from the foregoing that if the Senate passes this bill without amendment the items therein subject to reduction will all be reduced as provided in Section 34a of Article IV of the Constitution. This is equally true regardless of whether the Senate passes the bill by a mere majority, by a two-thirds vote or unanimously.

Situation if Senate Amends Assembly Bill No. 1800

If the Senate amends Assembly Bill No. 1800 and passes the bill as amended by the required two-thirds vote, and if the bill is then returned to the Assembly for concurrence in the amendments, the vote by the Assembly either on such concurrence or on the adoption of a subsequent free conference report will constitute the "vote on final passage" as to this bill. If such amendments are concurred in by the Assembly, or if the conference report is adopted by a two-thirds vote of that House, the bill will then have finally passed each house by the necessary two-thirds vote and the items therein will not be subject to reduction.

The Assembly Standing Rules on concurrence and on adoption of free conference reports (Rules 71 and 73) expressly make provision for such a contingency and expressly provide that the vote taken under those sections shall be deemed as the vote on final passage.

The judicial decisions on the question of what constitutes final passage of a bill are conflicting. However, one line of authorities unqualifiedly holds that the vote on concurrence in amendments or upon the adoption of a free conference report constitutes the vote upon final passage, and certain of the cases holding otherwise appear to do so upon the theory that it is within the power of the Legislature itself to determine what constitutes final passage of a bill and that the courts will not disturb such legislative determination.

We entertain no doubt that the courts will recognize and give effect to Rules such as the Assembly has adopted on this point. Such a rule as to conference reports was recognized and given effect by the Supreme Court of the State of Kansas in Stephens vs. Board of Commissioners, 98 Pac. 790, 792, in which case it appears that the Senate of the State of Kansas had such a rule.

The same conclusion is reached by the author of an article in the Iowa Law Review, 21 Iowa Law Review, 538, at p. 550.

Even in the absence of a rule the cases to the effect that a vote on concurrence is a vote on final passage are strongly persuasive. While this question has never been presented to the appellate courts in this State, it is our opinion that the reasoning of these cases is not only logical, but is particularly pertinent in the matter of enactment of statutes where the Constitution requires more than a mere majority vote in each house.

The case of Cox vs. Stults Eagle Drug Co., decided by the Supreme Court of Arizona in 1933, 21 Pac. (2d) 914, and the case of State vs. Cox, decided by the same court in 1934, 30 Pac. (2d) 825, are the latest cases on this point. In the first case the lower house passed a bill containing an urgency section providing that the bill take effect immediately by a two-thirds vote. In the Senate the bill was amended in important particulars and returned to the lower house for concurrence. These amendments were concurred in by the lower house by less than the two-thirds vote required for passage of such bills. The court held that the vote on concurrence was the vote on final passage and that the bill had not received the required two-thirds vote. In the second case, an identical set of facts was presented. The court reached the same conclusion as to what constituted the vote on final passage but overruled the previous case to the extent of holding that the act took effect 90 days after final adjournment and did not absolutely fail of passage.

In view of the foregoing, therefore, it is still possible for Assembly Bill No. 1800 to be passed by both houses by the required two-thirds vote, in the event that such bill is amended in the Senate.

Consideration of Senate Bill No. 800

It is, perhaps, unnecessary to point out that the Senate may elect to consider Senate Bill No. 800, its own Budget Bill, and transmit that bill to the Assembly instead of taking further action with reference to Assembly Bill No. 1800.

Among the factors which should be given weight in considering the advisability of such action is the fact that the questions here under consideration have never been considered and passed upon by the Supreme Court of this State. While we entertain no doubt as to the correctness of our conclusions, it must be borne in mind that, in the absence of a decision of the Supreme Court of this State directly in point, any opinion is at most an attempt to predict what the court will hold if the question is presented. If Senate Bill No. 800 is passed by a two-thirds vote of each house there will be no question which might be presented to the court. If Assembly Bill No. 1800 is enacted, litigation of the question here under discussion may result. Despite our belief that the result of such litigation would be as indicated in this memorandum, we believe it proper to call attention to the fact that the possibility of such litigation may be avoided by the enactment of Senate Bill No. 800.

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel
By LAWRENCE G. ALLYN, Deputy

The following communication was received and read, and on motion of Senator Swing, ordered printed in the Journal:

MEMORANDUM

IN RE: A bill to create secretaries to Members of the California Legislature, and the applicability or inapplicability of the legislative attaches expenditure limitations of the State Constitution.

Question: Would it be competent for the Legislature to provide for secretaries to the individual members of the Legislature, to be respectively appointed by them?

If so, would the per diem expenditure limitations "for officers, employees and attaches * * * for either house" of the Legislature be applicable?

Opinion: It is our opinion that provision for such secretaries could be made by statute and that said expenditure limitations would be inapplicable.

Analysis: We base this opinion, fundamentally, upon the principle that the expenditure limitations of Section 23a of Article IV of the State Constitution apply to "officers, employees and attaches" of the Senate and of the Assembly, respectively, whereas the proposed secretaries would not be in the employ of either house nor would they be performing any services for either house. They would be in the employ of the several Members of the Legislature as State officers, comparable to Secretaries to the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, the State Controller, the State Treasurer, and other State officers.

The very wording of Section 23a of Article IV indicates this distinction. It declares:

"In no case shall the total expense for officers, employees and attaches exceed the sum of three hundred dollars for either house, at any regular session, nor the sum of two hundred dollars per day for both houses at any special or extraordinary session, nor shall the pay of any officer, employee or attache be increased after he is elected or appointed."

Then follows this statement:

"The Legislature shall provide for the selection of all officers, employees and attaches of both houses and so far as advisable shall require such selection to be under the provisions of the law governing civil service."

This seems clearly to refer to officers, employees and attaches of the house, performing duties for and participating in the functions of the house, during session time; not to secretarial work for individual members of the Legislature, during session time or during the interim between sessions.

This view of the significance of the designation "officers, employees and attaches * * * for either house" or "for both houses" or "of both houses" receives added emphasis from the fact that over the years (before, during and after the time when these expenditure limitations went into the Constitution), the California Statutes which enumerate the legislative officials and define their duties have made reference to officers, employees and attaches who clearly perform duties and services for the house, not peculiarly services for the individual members of the Legislature.

Beginning at least as early as 1861 (Statutes of 1861, page 592), codified in 1872 as Sections 253 to 261, 268 and 269 of the Political Code, these statutes have used such designations as "officers and employees of the Senate," "officers and employees of the Assembly," "Secretary of the Senate," "Chief Clerk of the Assembly," "Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms of each house," "Minute Clerk of the Assembly." Stenographers also are listed as "officers and employees of the Senate" or "of the Assembly." There is no necessary inference from these statutes of an intent to include secretaries to the several Senators and Assemblymen among the enumerated "officers, attaches and employees" of either house.

In addition, two judicial decisions construing Section 23a seem quite in harmony with this view.

In 1911, Hilburn vs. Nye, 15 Cal. App. 298, decided that the services of the Secretary and the History Clerk of the Senate, and of the Chief Clerk and Assistant Clerk of the Assembly in compiling, after final adjournment, a full calendar of the legislative business of the session, and arranging all bills and papers belonging to the archives of either house and delivering them to the Secretary of State, were services of a kind included in the per diem limitations of Section 23a of Article IV. These were clearly services for the two houses, performed by officers of the houses in closing up the work of the session.

In 1936, Phillips vs. Riley, 6 Cal. (2d) 414, held that the expenditure limitations of said Section 23a do not apply to a Special Committee of either house engaged in conducting a legislative investigation during the interim between sessions. Section 23a "relates only to officers, employees or attaches of the Legislature engaged in work in connection with the legislative session proper, including post-session services." Of Hilburn vs. Nye, supra, the court in the Phillips case said:

"The claims there considered were for services rendered by duly appointed officers, employees and attaches of the Legislature in closing up the work of the regular session. Further than to hold that such claims fall within the constitutional limit, the holding in the decision is mere dicta."

It may be noted in passing that it seems well established that not every type of work caused by a session or performed during session time comes within the scope of the limitations of Section 23a.

Thus, it has never been considered by any one that the work of pressmen and proofreaders at the State Printing Plant, engaged in the printing of legislative bills, Journals, Histories and other documents, falls in any such category.

Nor is it considered that the maintenance of the Legislative Bill Room by the State Printer is such a service that the salaries of the persons engaged therein should be included in the $300 per day limit, though for a good many years prior to 1915 each house did, in fact, maintain a Bill Room of its own for the convenience of its members.

Nor is it considered that salaries of janitors employed by the Superintendent of the State Capitol Building in caring for the legislative halls and committee rooms should be included in the $300 per day computation.

Neither is the Legislative Reference Service of the State Library, nor is the Bill-Drafting Service of the Legislative Counsel Bureau regarded as the work of "officers, employees or attaches of either house."

Manifestly, not every conceivable item of work that may arise out of or be performed during a legislative session comes within the prescribed expenditure limits of Section 23a. It would seem a strained construction to force secretarial work for individual members of the Legislature within those limits. We think it is not included. Especially in view of the fact that our State Constitution is one of limitation, not of grant. The Legislature possesses all legislative power not clearly prohibited.

In addition we find a significant clause added to the Constitution, as a part of Article XXIV, in 1934. This is the civil service amendment. It declares (in subdivision (a) of Section 4) that the term "State Civil Service" shall include every officer and employee of this State except:

"(1) State officers elected by the people.

(4) State officers and employees directly appointed or employed by the Legislature or either house thereof.

(5) One person holding a confidential position to any officer mentioned in Paragraphs (1), (2) or (4) hereof except that there shall be but one such position to any board or commission composed in whole or in part of officers mentioned in said paragraphs, each such person to be selected by the officer, board or commission to be served.

* * * (Italics ours.)

"State officers elected by the people" (Subdivision 1) unquestionably includes Members of the Legislature as well as elective officials of the Executive and of the Judicial Departments of the State.

They are clearly included in the enumeration of officers (Subdivision 5) each of whom may have one confidential appointee. Statutory implementation concededly is necessary to make this completely operative. Funds must be appropriated or there will be no money available for payment of the salaries. And a statute likely is necessary expressly empowering the Legislator "to appoint" a secretary.

But here is express constitutional sanction for "selection" by a Legislator of a "person holding a confidential position" to him, the Legislator being the "officer * * * to be served." Here is express recognition of a capacity in the Legislator to make an appointment distinct and separate from appointments made by the "Legislature or either house thereof,"—all in one and the same section of the Constitution. This is in harmony with the interpretation which we place upon Section 23a of Article IV of the Constitution and gives added emphasis to it.

Senate Resolution No. 106

By Senators Phillips, Jespersen, Breed, Parkman, Seawell, Brown, McCormack, Waggy, Judah, DeLap, Tickle, Myhand, Rich, Biggar, Keating, Kenny, Fletcher, Gordon and Crittenden:

Relative to finances of the State, Budget and tax reduction

WHEREAS, It is our sincere belief that California is approaching a crisis in its history; and

WHEREAS, In this crisis, the finances of the State, as well as its economic, social and human factors, will be required to stand their greatest test; and

WHEREAS, It is necessary that this situation be separated from all political considerations and fully understood by the citizens of California; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the members of the California State Senate, That we adopt the following statement on the subjects of tax reductions, on economy, on the Budget and on special appropriations:

We state first that the adoption of the resolution providing for a Legislative Budget Adviser should be one of the most urgent matters before the present State Legislature. This, in our opinions, will provide us with the necessary information and advice in the future to meet the problems referred to in the memorandum.

ECONOMY. We urge simple economy as the most important matter before the Legislature. The daily headlines should convince every reader that the Federal Government is laying a staggering debt on the taxpayers. From 1933 to 1941, without the 31 billions just voted, the Federal debt has increased from 22 to 49 billions of dollars. California's share of the increase is greater than the total of all State income for the past seven years. Whether the war ends quickly or continues, it is unlikely that we shall see a reduction of this program for years to come.

The world, as we have known it, is coming to an end in Europe. We face the likelihood of changed standards in the United States. It is the obligation of every thoughtful member of the Legislature to defend, by his votes and his actions, what we proudly call the "American Way of Life."

This is not an empty phrase. The American Way of Life means a good living, against the unbelievable living conditions of Germany, France, Russia or Italy, even through the past 10 years. It means recognition of the rights of the men and women who work, as compared with national socialism under any name, by which men and women are regimented, and controlled. It means educational opportunities which would be unknown and unbelievable to the citizens of other countries. It means care for the aged, and the blind, and the orphans, and the tuberculous. It means freedoms of thought, and of speech, and of assembly, and of the press and the radio. It means an asylum for peoples from the nations where these freedoms no longer exist, and from countries where they never existed.

We state that the influence of the Legislature of this State should be directed to the solution of California's part of this tremendous and tragic problem.

Economy must become a matter for practical and serious thought. A Legislative Budget Adviser must begin his work soon, to the end that every unnecessary item of expense, big or little, may be eliminated, so that the resulting economies may accrue to the taxpayers who can then apply these savings upon the staggering increases in taxes which will result from defense spending.

BUDGET. The preparation of a State Budget of the size of the California State Budget is a highly technical problem. Members of the Assembly have worked conscientiously on the present Budget. Their work has shown the possibilities of economy and the difficulties of a budget revision under present-day methods.

TAX REDUCTIONS. A wise family pays its bills and prepares for the future during such times as its income is rising and when the income is greater than the desired expenses. The State of California is only a multiple of its separate families. Today the projected deficit is approximately fifty million dollars ($50,000,000). The urgent need of remodeling the institutions and of making certain necessary improvements and additions is a matter of common knowledge and desire. The wise family would pay its debts and make these repairs before it talked of cutting down its income or before this income were to be cut down by some outside influence.

We who vote to adopt this statement are all for tax reductions, but only when we know that these reductions can be made safely, and only after we have paid our debts, and repaired our institutions.

Four years ago this institutional need was so great that a bond issue of twenty million dollars ($20,000,000) was suggested. Those of us who were then in the Legislature opposed that suggestion. We felt incomes were rising, including the State's income. We said the time would come shortly when we could make these additions and repairs out of our tax income. We can not now break that promise.

We pledge ourselves to see that the income of the State, not used for its most necessary expenses, is applied to the reduction of the present deficit. We will support the creation of a plan of expenditures to prepare for the eventual let-down in business, and to remodel and enlarge the institutions. We will include in that plan urgently needed improvements in our schools and colleges, as well as imperative flood control projects.

When these expenditures are made, and not before, we will consider and vote for tax reductions. We will then know how long this rising income will last. We do not know that now. War is an uncertain factor in government economy. The current talk of tax reduction is based on no more certain a factor than that the present war in Europe, and the defense program in this country, have increased the momentary income of the State.

SPECIAL APPROPRIATIONS. We will vote for those special appropriations which fall under the following classifications: (1) those which for some technical or other reason could not be included in the Budget at the time it was made up and which justify a separate supporting vote; and (2) those which can be included in the "plan" referred to above, which should list all appropriations the Legislature feels are warranted, under the emergency conditions of the present and of the immediate future, and upon which the taxpayers' money should properly be spent, when, as and if the rising State income has paid off the present deficit. This plan can prepare for the future; if the increasing income continues, the plan will be ready.

Governments, and forms of government, can be changed by taxation, as well as by revolution. They can be changed by unemployment. They can be lost by a lack of foresight, or the courage to support this foresight. These things are in our minds as we adopt this resolution.

Resolution read.

Previous Question

Senator Keating moved the previous question.

Motion carried.

The question being on the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 106.
Resolution adopted.

FURTHER PROCEEDINGS UNDER CALL OF THE SENATE DISPENSED WITH

The names of the absentees were called, and Senate Bill No. 393 passed by the following vote:

AYES—Senators Breed, Brown, Carter, Crittenden, Cunningham, DeLap, Deuel, Gordon, Jespersen, Kenny, Luckey, McBride, McCormack, Mixer, Myhand, Parkman, Phillips, Quinn, Swan, Swing, Tickle, and Ward—22.

NOES—Senators Biggar, Dillinger, Foley, Garrison, Keating, Mayo, Rich, Seawell, Shelley, and Slater—10.

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication was received and read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, MAY 17, 1941

Honorable Ellis E. Patterson, Lieutenant Governor
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

SUBJECT: Consideration of Bills Vetoed by the Governor
REQUEST: No. 3375

DEAR GOVERNOR PATTERSON: You ask whether a reconsideration can be had of the vote upon the question of passage of a bill subsequent to its veto by the Governor. You also ask what vote is necessary in the Senate for such action.

It is our opinion that such a reconsideration may be had and that, under the Rules of the Senate, 21 votes are necessary for that action.

Section 16 of Article IV provides that if the Governor does not approve of a bill which has been presented to him he shall return it (the bill) with his objections to the house in which it originated, which shall enter such objections upon the Journal and proceed to reconsider it,

"if after such reconsideration, it again passes both houses, by yeas and nays two-thirds of the members elected to each house voting therefor, it shall become a law, notwithstanding the Governor's objections."

From the foregoing it is apparent that while we commonly speak of sustaining or overriding a veto the real question considered is the passage of the bill notwithstanding the veto. The vote taken is actually upon the passage of the bill. The only difference between this vote and the vote on passage of the same bill prior to the veto is the requirement that it pass by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected.

Senate Rule 43 provides:

"On the day on which a vote has been taken on any question a motion to reconsider the vote may be made by any member."

Rule 47 lists under the actions requiring 21 votes

"18. To reconsider bills, joint and concurrent resolutions."

This provision appears to apply to any bill regardless whether 21 or 27 votes are required to pass it. This conclusion is substantiated by the fact that the same rule in Paragraphs 12 and 22 provides a different vote for the reconsideration of the vote whereby a concurrent resolution proposing a constitutional amendment is defeated or adopted.

It further appears that Paragraph 18 of Rule 47 supersedes the provision in Section 96 of Mason's Manual which reads:

"When a two-thirds vote is required to take any action, the same vote, in the absence of a special rule is necessary for reconsideration."

In reaching the above conclusion we have given careful attention to that portion of Section 85 of Mason's Manual which reads:

"The motion to reconsider is not in order in any of the following cases:

9. A measure which has been passed over the veto of the Executive can not be considered."

While this rule clearly does not purport to apply to the case of a measure not passed by the Legislature notwithstanding a veto, we believe it should be discussed in order to avoid possible confusion.

The footnote under this statement in Section 85 cites

"Ashton vs. Rochester (1891) 14 N.Y.S. 855, 133 N.Y. 187, 38 N.E. 334."

Apparently the citation was intended to be to the case of that name in 30 N.E. at p. 965. The case involved an ordinance adopted by the common council on December 26, 1888, vetoed by the mayor, adopted again notwithstanding the veto on January 8, 1889, followed on March 19, 1889 by a resolution that the latter action be reconsidered.

If the rule stated by Mason is limited to such a factual situation it would appear to be correct. However, at least two cases clearly indicate that the Legislature may reconsider the vote upon passage of the bill notwithstanding a gubernatorial veto. The most recent case is Kay Jewelry Co., vs. Board of Registration and Optometry, decided by the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts on April 23, 1940, 27 N.E. (2d) p. 1. When the vetoed bill was under consideration it first failed to receive sufficient votes to pass notwithstanding the veto but on reconsideration did receive a sufficient vote. The court declared that the bill had been properly passed and that permitting reconsideration of the vote was not open to constitutional objection.

In an identical situation the Supreme Court of North Carolina in 1936 reached the same conclusion in State ex rel. Coleman vs. Lewis, 186 S.E. 625.

In Congress under precedent established in 1844 the motion to reconsider may not be applied to the vote on reconsideration of a bill returned with the objections of the President (Hind's Precedents of the House of Representatives, Volume 5, p. 322, Section 5644). This precedent is apparently still followed. It appears, however, to be based upon the interpretation placed upon the Constitution and the Rules of the House by the Speaker and not on any judicial decision. We do not therefore regard it as a controlling factor in determining the power of the Senate in this State to reconsider the vote upon passage of a bill notwithstanding the Governor's veto.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel
By LAWRENCE G. ALLYN, Deputy

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication was received and read, and on motion of Senator Garrison, ordered printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
 SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, May 16, 1941

*Honorable J. C. Garrison, Senate Chamber
 State Capitol, Sacramento, California*

SUBJECT: Senate Bill No. 114—"The Revenue Bond Act of 1941"

REQUEST: No. 3483

DEAR SENATOR GARRISON: You have requested our analysis and opinion as to an amendment to Senate Bill No. 114, a copy of which amendment is attached hereto.

The amendment provides that after the passage of the resolution by any municipality as mentioned in Section 4, subdivision (a) of the bill and before submission to the voters, the governing body of the municipality shall submit the "petition" by resolution to the California District Securities Commission for their investigation and approval upon certain specified points.

The exact meaning of the language "shall submit such petition by resolution" is not clear as there is no petition provided for by the bill. We assume that "project" was intended rather than "petition." We also assume that the commission referred to is the California Districts (not District) Securities Commission.

You ask us if the amendment empowers and requires the commission to investigate and report on the points specified to be submitted for its investigation and approval.

The amendment is silent as to the duties of the commission as it simply requires the governing body of the municipality to submit the petition (or project) to the commission for their (presumably meaning "its") investigation and approval.

Therefore the existence of any power and duty of the commission in the matter depends upon either:

(a) The existence of some other provision of law conferring the power and imposing the duty, or

(b) The existence of a necessary implication from the fact that the matter is required to be submitted to the commission that it is required to act upon it in some way.

The commission is established by, and functions mainly under, the California Districts Securities Commission Act. (Deering's General Laws, Act No. 3857a). The commission consists of the Attorney General, the Superintendent of Banks, the State Engineer, and two members appointed by the Governor, each appointive member being a person with five years' experience as an officer or employee of an irrigation district.

The primary function of the commission under the act as originally enacted was to investigate irrigation district projects and if it found them economically sound and feasible, to report its findings to the Controller. The bonds of the district thereupon became eligible for certification by the Controller and when certified became legal investments for trust, insurance company, bank, and similar funds.

The act now provides that in addition to irrigation districts, a water storage, water conservation, county water, reclamation, or drainage district, or any other district the primary function of which is irrigation, reclamation or drainage, may elect to have its bonds certified and to come under the act. In that event, such a district becomes subject to the provisions as to supervision of expenditures from the proceeds of the certified bonds and other provisions of the act, excepting Section 11 which is a special provision relating to irrigation districts in default.

As defined in the bill the term "municipality" includes some but not all of the districts which are or may become subject to the act. The term "municipality" in the bill, however, also includes city, county, city and county, municipal utility district, public utility district, metropolitan water district, sanitary district, county sanitation district, and sanitation district, over none of which the commission now has any jurisdiction.

Therefore, even assuming that the amendment could be interpreted to incorporate by reference the provisions of the California Districts Securities Commission Act as to the districts which now are or may be subject to the act, there is nothing in that act which could be applied to projects or bonds of cities, counties, cities and counties, and the various districts included within the term "municipality" which are now entirely outside the scope of the act.

Therefore, as to the greater number of "municipalities" whatever powers are conferred upon the commission are derived entirely from a possible implication that a requirement that the matter be submitted for investigation and approval carries with it a duty to investigate, approve or disapprove and to report.

It is quite possible that if a court were confronted with the question it would hold that such an implication exists and that so far as the commission's authority to investigate and approve is concerned the amendment should be construed to grant the authority.

This does not, however, necessarily result in the imposition of an enforceable duty upon the commission. The amendment does not supply the commission with any facilities or funds with which to conduct the investigations and it is quite obvious that no writ of mandate could issue to compel it to act if no money was available for the purpose (Sutro Heights Land Co. vs. Merced Irrigation District, (1931) 211 Cal. 670).

Under Section 16 of the California Districts Securities Commission Act a district requesting investigation and report under the act is required to contribute to the commission a sum to be agreed upon by the commission and the district. There is nothing in the amendment authorizing such a contribution by a municipality as defined in the bill and certainly nothing requiring it. It may be noted that Item 137 of the Budget Bill in its present form (Assembly Bill No. 1800, as amended May 5, 1941) proposes to appropriate $19,960 to the commission.

The result is that even though the amendment were interpreted as casting a duty upon the commission to make the investigations and to approve or disapprove the project and report thereon, there is a possibility that nothing could be done to enforce performance of such a duty.

Therefore as to your question whether the amendment empowers and requires the commission to investigate and report on the matters submitted to it, in our opinion the amendment is susceptible of being interpreted as imposing such a duty, but unless provision is made for empowering the commission to carry out the duty, performance can not be compelled.

As to the effect of the approval or disapproval of the commission, you will observe that the amendment is utterly silent. In terms the amendment simply requires the submission of something called a petition to the commission for investigation and approval. The matter drops there and everything else is left to inference. It may be inferred that it is intended that the commission make the investigation, although no facilities are provided for its doing so. It may be inferred that the commission is to report the results to some person or body, although the amendment is silent as to whom.

It may also be inferred that it is intended that the approval (or disapproval) have some effect but there is nothing upon which to base any inference whatever as to what the effect is to be.

It might be that the effect of the approval is intended to be that the bonds are eligible for certification under the California Districts Securities Commission Act.

It might be that the effect is intended to be that unless approval is obtained the proceedings are to be dropped.

It might be that the effect intended is that the voters will have the results of the commission's investigation and report as a guide to their voting at the election.

However, the amendment gives no indication of what possible effect is intended and a court confronted with the problem would be helpless. It could not disregard the amendment entirely, particularly if it looked into the history of the bill and found the amendment had been separately adopted. It could not conclude that the Legislature had deliberately required the performance of an idle act to no purpose. And it would have no basis for determining what effect the submission, investigation and approval was intended to have. Consequently the court would be driven to the conclusion that the Legislature had enacted an incomplete statute which could not have any operative effect.

Consequently, in our opinion, the amendment (without further amplification and specification) would impart into the bill an element of uncertainty in an important particular that would make the bill difficult of administration if enacted into law.

It would likely thereby render the measure inoperative as a whole unless under the provisions of Section 16 of the bill the courts should hold the amendment nugatory and separable, leaving the remaining provisions in operation and effect. Whether the courts would feel they could thus rule as to separability of the amendment is a matter of doubt.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel
By JOSEPH W. PAULUCCI, Deputy

INTRODUCTION, FIRST READING AND REFERENCE OF SENATE BILLS (RESUMED)

The following resolution was offered:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 39: By Senator Crittenden—
Relative to the appointment of a Labor Mediation Board.

WHEREAS, All persons must take cognizance of the fact that an emergency now exists, perhaps of more severity than at any time in our history, and that labor disputes are prevalent throughout the State; and

WHEREAS, These disputes have resulted in strikes on the part of employees which are seriously crippling the handling of perishable crops and seriously delaying industry in the production of war materials and the completion of governmental contracts; and

WHEREAS, It is no part of the purpose of this resolution to determine who is to blame for these strikes; and

WHEREAS, It is, however, the duty of the Government of the State of California to put forth every lawful and just effort to settle these strikes forthwith, and to have determined what is a just and fair solution of each individual conflict, to the end that men may go to work at once; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, the Assembly thereon concurring. That the Legislature of the State of California does hereby request the Governor of the State to appoint forthwith a Mediation Board of his own selection which shall at once proceed to hold hearings, find facts and immediately make recommendation for settlement, and publish its findings of facts and recommendations, to the end that opposing interests may settle their differences at once for their own interests and primarily for the benefit of all the people of California; and be it further

Resolved, That the Governor of the State of California is urged to use whatever funds may be available for the necessary expenses of the Mediation Board, it being the sense of this Legislature that if adequate funds are not available for the purpose, they be made available.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

SACRAMENTO, May 26, 1941

*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
Sacramento, CaliforniaGREETINGS:*SENATE BILL NO. 195

"An act to add Section 1.7 to the Unemployment Relief Appropriation Act of 1940, relating to the relief of hardship and destitution due to and caused by unemployment and the administration thereof, providing terms and conditions upon which such relief may be granted, making an appropriation therefor, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately", in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await final enactment of the Budget Bill.

Appropriations available for expenditure in the maintenance of unemployment relief activities during the remainder of the current biennium will be exhausted by the end of May. If payments to the unemployed are to be continued, it is essential that additional funds be provided immediately.

I wish to call your attention to the fact that the amount of the appropriation provided for in this bill is $175,000 less than the estimated requirements of the State Relief Administration. In case this appropriation proves inadequate, it would probably be necessary to reconvene the Legislature in special session to provide for necessary funds. In this connection I would point out the following statement in the report of a private accounting firm to the Joint Fact-Finding Committee which read in part:

"It should be recognized that any estimate made at this time of the amount required to carry the Relief Program to June 30, 1941, is necessarily subject to a fairly wide margin of error." To me it would appear wiser to appropriate an amount which would provide a safe margin for contingencies, bearing in mind the fact that any surpluses would revert to the General Fund at the end of the biennium.

I would also call your attention to Section 2 of the bill which it appears might necessitate an immediate redefinition of employability by the State Relief Commission. Such redefinition, taking place immediately, would cause endless confusion between SRA and the counties and might result in considerable shifting of caseload to county agencies.

It would appear to be extremely unwise to affix this provision, which might drastically change the policy in handling relief, to a bill which is only designed to furnish an appropriation to carry on relief for approximately one month.

The Legislature might also do well to consider this section in connection with the amount of the appropriation. Under Section 2, it seems quite certain that if the appropriation did prove inadequate the SRA could easily transfer sufficient cases to the counties to get within the appropriation. I would feel impelled to oppose any such policy, however, in view of the fact that county budgets were made up months ago for this fiscal year and any such shifting of caseload by SRA to keep within its appropriation could only have an adverse financial effect on the counties.

In view of these considerations, I would recommend that the Legislature give serious thought to amending this section out of the bill before its passage.

Respectfully submitted.

CULBERT L. OLSON, Governor of California

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the passage of Assembly Bill No. 1393:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, May 2, 1941

in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await final enactment of the Budget Bill.

Respectfully submitted.

Motion carried.

Explanation of Vote

In explanation of my vote on Senate Bill No. 114 will say I would vote "Yes" on a constitutional amendment being submitted to the voters as outlined in Senate Bill No. 114. The voters refused to approve the issuance of revenue bonds at the last election by nearly a million votes.

If Senate Bill No. 114 is passed it means the development of power at the expense of the land. The Central Valley Water Project was created primarily for the development of water for the development of the land. I question the constitutionality of the diversion of the water primarily for power instead of for the benefit of land. Senate Bill No. 114 is primarily intended for power development instead of water development, so much needed in the near future.

We have the Railroad Commission to protect us and who regulate rates for power. For these reasons I must vote "No" on Senate Bill No. 114.

Each such schedule in this act is a restriction or limitation upon the expenditure of the respective appropriation made by this act, does not itself appropriate any money and is not itself an item of appropriation.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE,

SACRAMENTO, May 24, 1941

*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
Sacramento, California*

GREETINGS: Pursuant to the provisions of Section 312 of the Political Code of California, you are hereby notified that on the twenty-third day of May, 1941, at 11:45 p.m., Senate Bill No. 1078 was returned without my signature and, together with a statement of my objections thereto, was delivered to Honorable John Harold Swan, Member of the Senate.

Respectfully submitted,

CULBERT L. OLSON, Governor of California

To the Members of the Senate

Herewith is the veto of Governor Culbert L. Olson of Senate Bill No. 1078. This veto was given me at 11:45 p.m., Friday, May 23d.

JOHN HAROLD SWAN

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

SACRAMENTO, May 23, 1941

*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
Sacramento, California*

GREETINGS: I am returning herewith, without my signature, Senate Bill No. 1078, entitled:

"An act to amend the Building and Loan Association Act by adding thereto a new section to be numbered Section 13.16d, relating to building and loan associations, including the rehabilitation, readjustment, reorganization or plans for the liquidation of such an association, or of all or of any part of the business, property and assets of such association, or the readjustment, modification or reorganization of the rights or interests of any or all investors and creditors of such association; providing for the kinds of securities issuable in connection therewith and exempting such securities from the necessity of a permit under the Corporate Securities Act; authorizing executors, administrators, guardians, receivers, trustees, insurance companies and cemetery associations to consent to a plan as defined in said Section 13.16d, and exchange shares, stock, investment certificates or other rights or claims for securities issued pursuant to such plan and to continue to hold as a legal investment any securities so received; and exempting the proposer or proposers of a plan from the provisions of an act approved July 1, 1937, being Chapter 784 of the Statutes of 1937."

My objections to this bill are generally and specifically as follows:

1. The objective of the bill is to circumvent action taken by the Building and Loan Commissioner in the performance of his duty to protect from further manipulation, mismanagement and loss the interests of the certificate holders of the Pacific States Savings and Loan Company, which had ceased to function as such and the assets of which were impaired to an extent exceeding $10,000,000.

Of all the building and loan associations in California, numbering more than 100, there is only this one association, and its condition, to which this legislation relates. There is no need or reason, nor is there any demand for this legislation except the desire that comes from the former management of the Pacific States Savings and Loan Company, representing a stockholding company which has no real interest in its assets. This bill would not have been presented to the Legislature but for the fact that it was sponsored by the individual who controls that stockholding company. It was introduced after the refusal of the Legislature to adopt an initiative measure, sponsored by him, as a vehicle which would enable him again to secure control of the assets of this association acquired with the savings of its depositors. These assets were taken over by the Building and Loan Commissioner for the protection of the holders of the certificates of these savings deposits, to whom they belong. Their operations are in competent hands, their earnings are being paid to the certificate holders, their management and careful disposition will go forward, and the moneys therefrom will be paid to the 40,000 or more certificate holders entitled thereto unless obstruction is placed in the way under provisions of a bill such as this.

In long-drawn-out litigation, instituted by the ousted management in an endeavor to recover possession of Pacific States assets, the evidence is clear and unimpeachable that the condition of this association and the illegal manner in which its assets had been handled to defeat the interests of the certificate holders, required the action taken by the commissioner. Protraction of that litigation has been due solely to the activities of the former management for the purpose of delaying final determination until legislation could be procured giving opportunity to promote a reorganization plan to place these assets into another organization, possibly a general corporation, which could be used as a vehicle for a continuance of the practices by which thousands upon thousands of small investors have been maneuvered out of their savings. This bill gives such an opportunity. If it became a law it would mean not the end of litigation regarding the assets of the Pacific States Building and Loan Company, but an indefinite continuation thereof in which the struggle of the State to protect the interests of the 40,000 deposit certificate holders, to whom its assets belong, would be made all the harder!

2. Support of the foregoing general objections is found in the provisions of the bill itself. In the litigation started by the former management to regain possession of the assets of Pacific States, expert witnesses appointed by the court itself have testified that the company is insolvent to an extent exceeding ten million dollars ($10,000,000). These experts determined the actual or fair market value of all the assets in accordance with the only rule of evidence ever used in such cases in California or in any other State.

The bill provides for a new proceeding to be started for reorganization, in which proceedings the condition of the company would be determined according to a different rule of evidence for the determination of value, so speculative and conjectural as to be almost meaningless in itself, thus giving an opportunity to the stockholding interest to introduce evidence of value that is fictitious instead of actual. If by the use of this different rule of evidence as to value, the stockholding company and the old management controlled by one individual could make it appear that the stockholder has an equity in the assets, it would, under the provisions of this bill, be in a position to veto any plan of reorganization which did not give that individual effective control.

Supplementing the new rule of evidence is a provision that the trial in the pending case may be stayed. Since the condition of the company would be determined by a rule of value different from the established rule followed in the present case, findings of the experts and the court in the present case would be considered of no use and effect. All proceedings would be stopped, as this litigation is about to end in final judgment. Any finding of the court as to mismanagement or manipulation by the stockholding interest may, in this manner, be suppressed, and all of the time employed and expense incurred in establishing the facts of the case would be wasted if this bill becomes law.

It appears to me that his legislation would come to the rescue, so to speak, of a party litigant, removing him from the jurisdiction of one court and starting him off in another under rules made to favor him. In this respect this measure is an unwarranted and unjustifiable interference with the judicial process already in motion.

During the many years the present law has been in effect, a large number of building and loan associations have been taken over by the State. The rights of their various classes of investors have been determined and their affairs administered.

There have been no complaints about any injustices in the law. There seems to be no reason to change the law now to apply especially to the Pacific States case.

To my mind this bill can do nothing but harm to the 40,000 investment certificate holders who, as creditors of Pacific States, are entitled to first consideration in the disposition of its assets. The new proceeding provided by the bill would mean more litigation—not less—endless delay before the certificate holders could be given the relief for which they are waiting, and a great deal more expense. All of this unnecessary expenditure of time and money could only be for the purpose of giving the former management an opportunity to make some kind of a showing that would furnish the basis for its being restored to possession and control so that it may further exploit assets belonging to others.

Many of the certificate holders are elderly; time means a great deal to them. Most of them are greatly in need of the money they have invested in this company; they have relied upon their legal right to withdraw it and upon the State to protect that right. Relief will be brought to them sooner by permitting the present trial to go to judgment. Certainly it is not just public policy to provide ways and means for those who are engaged in efforts to obstruct this result to continue further that obstruction by endless litigation in addition to that which they have already been able to devise. The law is already broad enough to permit certificate holders who wish to reorganize to acquire and operate assets of the company after the court renders judgment in the present case.

In my opinion, if this measure were to become a law it would perpetrate a cruel injustice upon those whose interests it is our duty to protect.

Respectfully submitted.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

SACRAMENTO, May 26, 1941

*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
State of California, Sacramento, California*

GREETINGS: Pursuant to the provisions of Section 312 of the Political Code of California, you are hereby notified that on the twenty fourth day of May, 1941, at 10:50 p.m., Senate Bill No. 662 was returned without my signature and, together with a statement of my objections thereto, was delivered to Honorable Ed. Fletcher, member of the Senate.

Respectfully submitted.

CULBERT L. OLSON, Governor

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

SACRAMENTO, May 24, 1941

*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
Sacramento, California*

GREETINGS: I am returning herewith, without my signature, Senate Bill No. 662, entitled: "An act to amend Section 8560 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to cemeteries."

My objections to this bill are as follows:

This bill amends Section 8560 of the Health and Safety Code which now prohibits the placing of public utility facilities or highways through land dedicated to cemetery purposes without the consent of the cemetery authority owning and operating it or of not less than two-thirds of the owners of interment plots.

The bill would add a prohibition against incorporating any of such land into or annexing any of such land to any city without similar consent.

The bill applies to privately owned cemeteries which are dedicated in the manner provided by the Health and Safety Code. All that is necessary for such dedication is for a cemetery authority to file with the county recorder a map and a declaration of dedication.

I believe the bill is undesirable for the following reasons:

1. Section 1 (b) of Article XIII of the Constitution exempts from taxation property used or held for the burial of human dead "except as used or held for profit." This amendment will prevent the inclusion of such lands within a city which have not been sold and are held for sale so that they will not be subject to city taxes, even though owned by a cemetery corporation formed for profit.

2. If this bill effectually prevented the inclusion within any city of cemeteries, it would prevent any control or regulation in the way of zoning or other police power enactments by the city. If we assume that a city develops around a cemetery, this bill would create a very undesirable situation. The city would not be able to affect the property by zoning ordinances nor could it affect the property by means of any other police measure. Furthermore, in relation to the curtailment of the police power, Section 7600 of the Health and Safety Code provides for the removal of all remains in cemeteries within cities of 1,500 to 100,000 population, and Section 7700, the removal within cities of over 100,000 population. This bill will prevent the exercise of the authority of cities under these sections to order the removal of cemeteries which endanger the health and safety of persons resident in the immediate vicinity.

3. I am also concerned about the principle involved in exempting any class of property from the right of annexation. The Annexation of Uninhabited Territory Act of 1939, Chapter 297, D. A. 5162, provides for a uniform procedure for annexing uninhabited territory. By exempting one type of property from the provisions of this act, an unwise precedent would be established.

Respectfully submitted.

CULBERT L. OLSON, Governor of California

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

SACRAMENTO, MAY 26, 1941

To the Honorable Members of the Senate

Sacramento, California

GREETINGS: I am returning herewith, without my signature, Senate Bill No. 5966 entitled "An act to amend Sections 8934, 8938, 8939, 8963, 9000 and 9100 of the Health and Safety Code, and to repeal Chapter 106 of the Statutes of 1909, relating to cemeteries."

My objections to this bill are as follows:

The bill makes a number of changes in that portion of the Health and Safety Code relating to cemetery districts. Such districts are formed under the provisions of the Health and Safety Code in the usual procedure for the formation of assessment districts. They are governed by a board of three trustees appointed by the board of supervisors.

The bill adds a restriction on the powers of such districts by providing "that the sale or lease of a burial plot or plots shall be made only to a resident of the district, and shall be limited in size to the needs of the immediate members of his family."

Under this provision it would be impossible for a child who had left the family home, and consequently was no longer a resident of the district, to purchase a burial plot for his parents. It would also mean that where a portion of a family might be buried in a cemetery conducted by such a district, and no provision had theretofore been made for additional space in which to bury other members of the family, it would be impossible for those members who were nonresidents to acquire burial plots within such cemeteries. I believe these provisions are unreasonable and would undoubtedly create additional sorrow at a time of a death in a family.

This bill would also require such cemetery districts to create a "Perpetual Care Fund," and for this purpose to set aside at least 25 cents per square foot for each grave sold; such money to be set aside for the future care of the cemetery. While in most instances wise administrative policy may prompt such districts to so conduct their affairs, I see no reason why the Legislature by statute should require this to be done. Provision is made in the existing law whereby these cemetery districts can so conduct the cemeteries under their control. They are under the control of the boards of supervisors of the various counties and are managed by trustees appointed by them. It seems to me that this matter can well be left to the discretion of those representatives of the people immediately concerned.

Respectfully submitted.

CULBERT L. OLSON, Governor of California

The board of directors or other officers of the district shall have no power to incur any debt or liability whatever, either by issuing bonds or otherwise, in excess of the express provisions of this act; and any debt or liability incurred in excess of such express provisions shall be and remain absolutely void, except that for the purposes of organization, or for any of the purposes of this act, the board of directors may, before the levying of the first assessment, incur indebtedness in such sum or sums as shall amount to two thousand dollars ($2,000), or, if the district shall contain more than 4,000 acres, to one-half as many dollars as there are acres of land in the district, and may cause warrants of the district to be issued therefor, bearing interest at not more than 7 per centum per annum, said rate to be fixed by the board of directors. Each such warrant shall be made payable on a date not later than the first day of July next after the first assessment in the district shall be levied, and if not paid when presented on the due date or thereafter shall be registered and the amount due thereon shall draw interest as provided in Section 61a of this act. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as limiting the right of the board to enter into any contract or lease for any lands, waters, water rights or other property necessary in the judgment of the board for any of the uses or purposes of the district, and by such lease or contract to bind the district for the payment of the consideration specified in such lease or contract as may be provided therein, but if the largest payment to be made under any one such lease or contract in any year exceeds an amount equal to one-fourth of 1 per cent of the total valuation of the land in the district according to the assessment book thereof last equalized before the making of such lease or contract, such lease or contract shall not be valid unless approved by the California Districts Securities Commission, or unless an assessment sufficient to meet all the principal payments to become due under such lease or contract shall have been or shall be authorized for that purpose in accordance with Section 59 of this act. If any such contract shall provide for any future payment or payments, the board may cause warrants to be issued for such payment or payments, which warrants shall be made payable at the time or times provided in said contract for such payment or payments. If a special assessment shall have been voted as provided in Section 59 of this act, the board may cause warrants, in an amount or amounts equal to the amount of said assessment, to be issued for the purpose or purposes thereof, which warrants shall be made payable at such time or times as the board may estimate that provision for their payment may be made from the proceeds of said assessment. In case any district shall have outstanding any warrants registered as provided in Section 61a of this act, such warrants or any thereof and the accrued interest thereon may be refunded by the issuance of warrants payable at stated times to be fixed by the board, and such warrants may be exchanged for such registered warrants or may be sold for not less than the par value thereof to provide funds for the payment of such registered warrants or any thereof and the accrued interest thereon. The board may also issue warrants payable at a future time or times in consideration of money loaned to the district for the purchase of any of its outstanding bonds or the refinancing or retiring of any outstanding contract; provided, that the annual interest payable on the warrants so issued shall be less than the annual interest on the bonds purchased or contract refinanced or retired with the proceeds of said warrants. Any warrant made payable as aforesaid at a future date shall draw interest at a rate to be fixed by the board, not to exceed 6 per cent per annum, payable annually or semiannually as the board may prescribe, and the board may cause coupons, payable to bearer and in such form and to be signed as the board may prescribe, to be attached to such warrant to evidence such interest. No warrants made payable more than five years from the date thereof shall be valid unless the issuance of such warrants shall have been authorized by a majority of the electors voting at a special election called within the district by the board for the purpose of determining whether such warrants shall be authorized. Notice of any such election shall be given and such election shall be held and the result thereof determined as provided in Section 30d of this act. In case any district shall issue warrants payable at specified future dates as herein provided and such district shall own any land or other property which it is authorized by law to lease or sell, the board may, in the contract providing for the issuance of such warrants, agree that the proceeds of the leasing or sale of such land or other property, not required by law to be used for other purposes, may be allocated to the payment of such warrants or warrants, and in such case the income or proceeds of said land or other property so allocated shall not be diverted to any other purpose until such warrant or warrants shall have been paid in full."

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

SACRAMENTO, May 28, 1941

*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
State Capitol, Sacramento, California*

GREETINGS: Pursuant to the provisions of Section 312 of the Political Code of California, you are hereby notified that on the twenty-seventh day of May, 1941, at 11 p.m., Senate Bill No. 877 was returned without my signature and, together with a statement of my objections thereto, was delivered to Honorable John F. Shelley, member of the Senate.

Respectfully submitted,

CULBERT L. OLSON, Governor

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

SACRAMENTO, May 27, 1941

*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
Sacramento, California*

GREETINGS:

I am returning herewith, without my signature, Senate Bill No. 877, entitled: "An act to add Chapter 8, comprising Sections 1131, 1132, 1133, 1134, 1135 and 1136 to Part 3, Division 2 of the Labor Code, relating to hot cargo and secondary boycotts."

My objections to this bill are found in the provisions of the Constitution of the United States and of the State of California, and in my oath of office to support them.

According to my understanding of those provisions and their interpretation by the Supreme Court of the United States and the Supreme Court of this State, I could not approve this bill without violating that oath.

"Hot Cargo" declared by this bill to be unlawful is defined to mean "any combination or agreement resulting in a refusal by employees to handle goods or to perform any services for their employer because of a dispute between some other employer and his employees or a labor organization or any combination or agreement resulting in a refusal by employers to handle goods or perform any services for another employer because of an agreement between such other employer and his employees or a labor organization."

"Secondary Boycott" also declared by this bill to be unlawful is defined to mean "Any combination or agreement to cease performing any services for any employer or to cause any loss or injury to such employer, or to his employees, for the purpose of inducing or compelling such employer to refrain from doing business with, or handling the products of any other employer, because of a dispute between the latter and his employees or a labor organization, or any combination or agreement to cease performing or to cause any employer to cease performing any services for another employer, or to cause any loss or injury to such other employer, or to his employees, for the purpose of inducing or compelling such other employer to refrain from doing business with, or handling the products of any other employer, because of an agreement between the latter and his employees or a labor organization."

In other words, this bill declares it unlawful for employees by agreement among them to cease work for an employer if that refusal is because of a dispute between another employer and his employees, and declares it unlawful for employees to cease work for any employer for the purpose of inducing such employer to refrain from doing business with or handling the products of any other employer because of a dispute or an agreement between the latter and his employees, regardless of their interest in or what may be the effect of any such circumstance upon their rights and the rights of other employees to accomplish effective collective bargaining; and, as stated by the Legislative Counsel in his report, the language of the bill defining "secondary boycott" clearly includes peaceful picketing as being unlawful unless narrowly limited to a place where there is a direct employer-employee relationship.

The Supreme Court of the United States has held such laws unconstitutional in that they violate rights guaranteed by the First and Fourteenth Amendments to the Constitution of the United States; rights which are also guaranteed by Sections 9 and 10 of Article I of the Constitution of California. The Legislative Counsel's opinion says:

"The action of the United States Supreme Court in these two cases is persuasive to the effect that freedom of speech is not to be limited by a State's declaration of whether its purpose is lawful. It seems to be the court's view that peaceful picketing is identified with the constitutional guaranty of free speech and is to be judged according to the principles governing the exercise of that right. It can not be narrowly restricted by a State's declaration of what it deems to be the proper field for its exercise. It seems to us that in broadly outlawing secondary picketing, whether peaceful or not, Senate Bill No. 877 goes too far and is unconstitutional in that respect." (Citing American Federation of Labor v. Suing (1941), 61 Supreme Court 568; Looney v. Miller's, Inc. (1941), 61 Supreme Court 732.)

I am keenly and sympathetically aware of the feelings of individual employers who feel that instances in the operation of the secondary boycott or "hot cargo" pressure of organized employees of another employer unjustly affect and injure their own normal operations, because they are not directly parties to that other employer's dispute with his employees.

But the answer to this complaint is found in the following language of the Supreme Court of California, 100 Cal. Dec., p. 407:

"although the respondent argues that a person secondarily boycotted is an innocent third party caught between the upper and lower millstones of an industrial dispute in which he has no interest, this is clearly not correct. One who sells a product of a merchant or manufacturer who is engaged in a labor dispute with his employees, inescapably becomes an ally of the employer. He has a direct unity of interest with the one being struck. By providing an outlet for that product, he enables the employer to maintain the working conditions against which labor is protesting. And unless the union is allowed to follow the product to the place where it is sold and to ask the public by peaceful representations to refrain from purchasing it, the workers have no real opportunity to tell their story to those whose interest or lack of interest will, in large measure, determine the issues in dispute. (Goldfinger v. Feinbuch, 276 N. Y. 281, 11 N. E. (2d) 910.)"

It is inevitable, in the maintenance of the civil liberties of our democracy involved in the economic struggle in the field of industry and commerce where workers and employers exercise their collective economic power for the attainment of what they consider to be their just rights, that incidental hardship may be suffered by individuals only indirectly involved and which they are powerless to prevent. But fundamental constitutional rights and civil liberties which our country is now preparing to defend against the enemies of democracy can not be set aside in order to avoid those incidental hardships. The way must and undoubtedly will be found in adjustments which will necessarily evolve from the preservation of those rights.

Everyone, even the proponents of this bill, will agree that the rights of employees to unionize and to strike and to peacefully picket in the enforcement of their rights to bargain collectively are just and fundamental rights of our American system; yet this bill would destroy the effective, peaceful and orderly exercise of those rights.

In fact, it goes further and denies the right of employees to quit work for any of the reasons mentioned in the bill. It says continuance at work under such circumstances is compulsory. I have not found any statute or ordinance of any State or municipality which has ever gone so far in attempts to defeat or circumscribe the rights of organized workers. This bill says to a union of workers engaged in an economic struggle with their employer to better their wages or working conditions, "You can not ask other employees to assist you in your struggle." And it says to a union of other employees, "You must continue to work on materials furnished by another plant in which that struggle exists, and you may be sent to jail if you fail to continue at work on those materials, although by so doing you will aid in destroying your own union." (254 U. S. 443.)

I believe that most Americans, without looking at any law books, would say that under our American system of government and the rights guaranteed by our Constitution, if a man does not want to work, he can not be made to do so whatever his reasons; that he can use this right to quit work for any reason he sees fit, either individually or collectively; that is, he can quit his job alone, or he can walk out with other employees of a similar mind.

So analyzed, I believe the average American will agree that no matter what the purpose, or how some people may have abused their right to quit work or to strike, you can't make a free man work in private enterprise, and that therefore such a bill as this would violate our fundamental rights of liberty and freedom from involuntary servitude.

In the case of Thornhill vs. Alabama, 60 Supreme Court Reports 736, is the final and conclusive determination by our highest court of the unconstitutionality of a bill such as this. In that case the court held as follows (pages 744-5) :

"The freedom of speech and of the press guaranteed by the Constitution embraces at the least the liberty to discuss publicly and truthfully all matters of public concern without previous restraint or fear of subsequent punishment. . . .

"In the circumstances of our times the dissemination of information concerning the facts of a labor dispute must be regarded as within that area of free discussion that is guaranteed by the Constitution. Hague v. C. I. O., 307 U. S. 496, 59 S. Ct. 954, 83 L. Ed. 1423; Schneider v. State, 308, U. S. 147, 155, 162, 163, 60 S. Ct. 146, 151, 84 L. Ed. ____ See Senn v. Tile Layers Union, 301 U. S. 468, 478, 57 S. Ct. 857, 862, 81 L. Ed. 1229. It is recognized now that satisfactory hours and wages and working conditions in industry and a bargaining position which makes these possible have an importance which is not less than the interests of those in the business or industry indirectly concerned. The health of the present generation and of those as yet unborn may depend on these matters, and the practices in a single factory may have economic repercussions upon a whole region and affect widespread systems of marketing. The merest glance at State and Federal legislation on the subject demonstrates the force of the argument that labor relations are not matters of mere local or private concern. Free discussion concerning the conditions in industry and the causes of labor disputes appears to us indispensable to the effective and intelligent use of the processes of popular Government to shape the destiny of modern industrial society. The issues raised by regulations, such as are challenged here, infringing upon the right of employees effectively to inform the public of the facts of a labor dispute are part of this larger problem. We concur in the observations of Mr. Justice Brandeis, speaking for the Court in Senn's case (301 U. S. at page 478, 57 S. Ct. at page 862, 81 L. Ed. 1229): 'Members of a union might, without special statutory authorization by a State, make known the facts of a labor dispute, for freedom of speech is guaranteed by the Federal Constitution.'

In the case of American Federation of Labor vs. Swing, Justice Frankfurter placed even greater emphasis upon the inviolability of the right of "peaceful picketing of peaceful persuasion" in the following language, which in my opinion is determinative that this bill is unconstitutional :

"We are asked to sustain a decree which for purposes of this case asserts as the common law of a State that there can be no 'peaceful picketing or peaceful persuasion' in relation to any dispute between an employer and a trade union unless the employer's own employees are in controversy with him.

"Such a ban of free communication is inconsistent with the guarantee of freedom of speech. That a State has ample power to regulate the local problems thrown up by modern industry and to preserve the peace is axiomatic. But not even these essential powers are unfettered by the requirements of the Bill of Rights. The scope of the Fourteenth Amendment is not confined by the notion of a particular State regarding the wise limits of an injunction in an industrial dispute, whether those limits be defined by statute or by the judicial organ of the State. A State can not exclude workmen from peacefully exercising the right of free communication by drawing the circle of economic competition between employers and workers so small as to contain only an employer and those directly employed by him. The interdependence of economic interest of all engaged in the same industry has become a commonplace. American Foundries v. Tri City Council, 257 U. S. 184, 209. The right of free communication can not therefore be mutilated by denying it to workers, in a dispute with an employer, even though they are not in his employ. Communication by such employees of the facts of a dispute, deemed by them to be relevant to their interests, can no more be barred because of concern for the economic interests against which they are seeking to enlist public opinion than could the utterance protected in Thornhill's case. "Members of a union may, without special statutory authorization by a State, make known the facts of a labor dispute, for freedom of speech is guaranteed by the Federal Constitution." Senn v. Tile Layers Union, 301 U. S. 468, 478."

Since the United States Supreme Court handed down these and like decisions, State courts of last resort in several States have reversed their former decisions in conflict therewith.

In the case of E. L. Kerna Co. vs. Landgraf et al., decided by the New Jersey Court of Errors and Appeals on December 12, 1940, the court held that it was lawful for the union to distribute circulars and cards among customers, and prospective customers of the employer, informing them that such employer's products were nonunion made.

The court in that case reviewed the various decisions of the United States Supreme Court on the subject, and upheld the right of a union to compete with nonunion concerns by means of informing the public that such concerns were producing goods made by nonunion workers. In that connection the court had the following to say:

"If a merchant may freely, fairly, honestly and peacefully compete with other merchants, as is the common daily practice, by means of advertisements in the press, (or) by circulars, or by his window display' or by radio, so a union may in like manner, here by circulars, compete with nonunion concerns for customers. Such competition violates no rule of common law or otherwise; nor does it trench upon any provision of either our State or Federal Constitution. Cf. Senn v. Tile Layers &c. Union, 301 U. S. 468, 482, 81 L. Ed. 1229, 1238. (For the right generally to distribute circulars see, Lovell v. Griffin, 303 U. S. 444, 52 L. Ed. 949; Schneider v. New Jersey, 308 U. S. 147 (5 LRR Man. 659); McLean v. Mackay, 124 N. J. L. 91, 10 A. 2d 733). If injury results from the stated competition it is damnum abaque injuria.

"(Free Speech and Press)

"Additionally, we are of the opinion, and so hold, that, under the circumstances exhibited in the instant case, the restraint imposed constitutes an infringement of the union's right of freedom of speech and freedom of press both under our State and Federal Constitutions, notwithstanding the fact that there was no strike nor dispute between complainant and its employees. For an analogy in principle compare, Thornhill v. Alabama, supra; Cassion v. Shasta County, California, Adv. Opinions, U. S. Sup. Ct. Vol. 84, No. 13, p. 668 (6 LRR 318)."

The Kentucky Court of Appeals in the recent case of Blanford et al. v. Press Publishing Company, decided February 28, 1941, held secondary boycott as lawful and as an exercise of constitutional right of freedom of speech and of the press. It reviewed the recent decisions of the Supreme Court on the subject and held in effect that the U. S. Supreme Court being the final interpreter of the Federal Constitution the State court must follow its decisions. In this connection it held:

"Since the Supreme Court is the final interpreter of the Federal Constitution, no distinction may hereafter be drawn by a state court between the acts which may be committed by employees in furtherance of their interests and those which may be committed by nonemployee members of a labor union in the furtherance of its interests. Hence, members of any labor union, so long as they refrain from acts of violence, may not be enjoined from picketing the premises of any person against whom the union has a grievance, or from conducting a boycott against his business, notwithstanding the consequences to him, his accord with his own employees, or his inability to grant the demands made upon him by the union.

"Since the appellants are members of bona fide labor unions, and, in attempting to compel the unionization of appellee's printing establishment, did not resort to acts of violence, it is wholly immaterial that by advertisements and personal interviews in which the facts were stated and consequences intimated, they induced many of appellee's patrons to withhold their patronage. Appellants were exercising rights guaranteed to them by the Constitution and construed by the Supreme Court and lesser courts are powerless to afford appellee any relief."

The last expression of the Supreme Court of California on the subject is the case of McKay v. Retail Automobile Salesmen's Union, 100 Cal. Dec. 347. The Supreme Court in that case reviewed nearly all of the previous decisions of that court, pointing out that workmen may associate together and exert various forms of economic pressure upon employers. It held (at page 352) as lawful the right to strike, to boycott, primarily and secondarily, and to picket, using the following language and references:

"Concerning the means used, it must be taken as settled in this State, that workmen may associate together and exert various forms of economic pressure upon employers, provided they act peaceably and honestly. The conventional means of exerting this economic pressure which have been held lawful are the strike (Pierce v. Stablenen's Union, (1909) 156 Cal. 70; Parkinson v. Building Trades Council, (1908) 154 Cal. 581; So. Calif. Iron & Steel Co. v. Amalgamated Assn., (1921) 186 Cal. 604; Lisse v. Local Union, (1935) 2 Cal. (2d) 312); the boycott, both primary and secondary (Parkinson v. Building Trades Council, supra; Pierce v. Stablenen's Union, supra; So. Calif. Iron & Steel Co. v. Amalgamated Assn., supra); and the picket (Lisse v. Local Union, supra; In re Lyons, 27 Cal. App. 182)."

The right to picket was held by the court in that case as one guaranteed by the Constitution as an incident of freedom of speech. In that connection the court said further (page 352):

"It is true that the early cases in the state intimated that picketing in any form was illegal (Rosenberg v. Retail Worker's Assn., 39 Cal. App. 47 (1918); Pierce v. Stablenen's Union, supra), and that Moore v. Cook's Union, 39 Cal. App. 538, held that peaceful picketing was per se unlawful. However, those conclusions were expressly renounced by this court in Lisse v. Local Union, supra. Indeed, the modern trend of decision clearly indicates that the right to picket peacefully and truthfully is one of organized labor's lawful means of advertising its grievances to the public, and as such is guaranteed by the Constitution as an incident of freedom of speech. (Carlson v. California, 84 L. Ed. 668 (1940); Thornhill v. Alabama, 84 L. Ed. 659 (1940); In re Lyons, supra (1938); People v. Harris, 91 Pac. (2d) 989 (Cal. 1939); 48 Yale L. J. 308, 312 (1938).) But the law clearly requires that concerted action by union workers be peaceful. Acts of violence or 'acts amounting to physical intimidation' will be enjoined. (Goldberg etc. Co. v. Stablenen's Union, 149 Cal. 429 (1906); So. Calif. Iron & Steel Co. v. Amalgamated Assn., supra; Lisse v. Local Union, supra.)"

In the case of In re Lyons, 27 Cal. App. (2d) 293, the first expression was made by our appellate court that the right to picket was a constitutional right that could be exercised not only by employees but by anyone else. In that case the right of citizens to picket the market because it would not close on Sundays was upheld. The court upheld this universal right of picketing in the following language:

"We can not see how the right to peacefully picket, under the guaranty of free speech, could be confined to cases in which there exists a dispute between an employer and organized labor over hours or conditions of employment of nonunion men and not extended to a dispute between a business man and any citizen or group of citizens who may differ with him on a question of business policy. The guaranty of the right of free speech is general and extends to every class or group of citizens."

The right of boycott and picketing, being a Constitutional right, can not be enjoined by any legislative enactment.

It should be pointed out that this attempt to restrict this fundamental constitutional right is only limited to the activities of workers and labor organizations, or persons who would assist them. As such, it is class legislation. The bill makes it unlawful for an employee to refuse to handle goods because of a dispute between another employer and his employees, or a labor organization. That same employee would have the right to refuse to handle goods because it was produced by slave labor, child labor, or under any other circumstance which that person thought in the light of his reasoning and his conscience was wrong, and as such, to be discouraged.

The bill makes it unlawful for a person to bring economic pressure on an employer in an effort to induce such employer to refrain from doing business with, or handling the products of any other employer because of a dispute between the latter and his employees, but would permit any group of citizens to exercise the same economic coercion on that employer because he sells Japanese goods.

The proponents of the bill seem oblivious to the fact that there is a unity of interest among all workers. This fact was recognized by Justice Taft years ago in the case of American Foundries vs. Tri-City Central Trades Council, 257 U. S. Supreme Court Reports (at p. 209), in the following language:

"Labor unions are recognized by the Clayton Act as legal when instituted for mutual help and lawfully carrying out their legitimate objects. They have long been thus recognized by the courts. They were organized out of the necessities of the situation. A single employee was helpless in dealing with an employer. He was dependent ordinarily on his daily wage for the maintenance of himself and family. If the employer refused to pay him the wages that he thought fair, he was nevertheless unable to leave the employ and to resist arbitrary and unfair treatment. Union was essential to give laborers opportunity to deal on equality with their employer. They united to exert influence upon him and to leave him in a body, in order, by this inconvenience, to induce him to make better terms with them. They were withholding their labor of economic value to make him pay what they thought it was worth. The right to combine for such a lawful purpose has, in many years, not been denied by any court. The strike became a lawful economic struggle or competition between employer and employees as to the share or division between them of the joint product of labor and capital. To render this combination at all effective, employees must make their combination extend beyond one shop. It is helpful to have as many as may be in the same trade in the same community united, because, in the competition between employers, they are bound to be affected by the standard of wages of their trade in the neighborhood. Therefore, they may use all lawful propaganda to enlarge their membership, and especially among those whose labor at lower wages will injure their whole guild."

They overlooked the fact that the standard of wages and working conditions prevailing in one plant, or locality, may be seriously jeopardized by the payment of lower wages by another employer, and especially is this true if it is in the same industry. Workers receiving fair wages from employers who want to maintain the American standards of living are duty bound to protect themselves and that employer from the unfair competition from other chiseling and cut-throat competitors, by means of boycott and picketing.

To hold otherwise, and to compel a worker, or an employer from exercising his fundamental right to purchase, or work on any material which they feel would seriously jeopardize the employer's business, and the standards of wages and working conditions established in his business, would be to compel such employer and his employees to destroy themselves.

However, the proponents of this bill do seem to realize the force of the foregoing objections as evidenced by its provision, inserted by way of amendment, that it is to remain in effect only during the defense emergency.

If constitutional guarantees are to be set aside for the safety of the Nation in war or in any of the conditions of National emergency, it is not for the Legislature of any one State to do so. That is the function of the Congress of the United States, in the exercise of its power to provide for the common defense, or of the President under powers delegated to him by Congress. Nor should any temporary suspension of constitutional rights be confined to workers in private industries, whether they be National defense industries or all other industries to which this bill would apply. No such action was taken even by the National Government in the first World War. It was not considered expedient to do so. President Wilson, in 1917, said:

"The highest and best form of efficiency is the spontaneous cooperation of free people."

The leaders, legislative and executive, of this Nation in 1917, when it was engaged in the first World War, agreed that the rights of labor should be preserved and protected, not only because of the dictates of human decency, but because high efficiency in industrial production can be secured in no other way.

Exigencies for National safety in time of war may require the conscription of both capital and labor, but it is not for the Legislature of any one State to do so as to either, but that is not the motive behind this bill. It is, in its essence, the same measure as Proposition No. 1, placed by certain employing interests on the 1938 ballot of California's general election in November of that year, and which the people overwhelmingly defeated.

As to the needs for any constitutional legislation to protect defense industries and maintain peaceful industrial relations in our State, we now have ample laws against violence or disorderly conduct, laws for the protection of the rights of persons and property. They should be thoroughly and unrelentingly enforced, whether against members of labor unions or other groups.

I signed Senate Bill No. 180, known as the "Anti-Sabotage Bill" which provides that whoever intentionally and maliciously destroys, impairs, injures, interferes or tampers with real or personal property with reasonable grounds to believe that such act will hinder, delay or interfere with the preparation of the United States for defense or for war, shall be guilty of a felony. That bill provided, and it is now the law, that portions of public highways could be closed to public use if the property abutting thereon is used in the manufacture of products to be used in National defense, if the Highway Commissioner decided that the public safety, the safety of the property so required; and I believe that these provisions will go a long way toward preventing any picketing designed to impede the National defense. One must also remember that picketing in any case to be lawful must be peaceful, and that if the picketing is carried on with force or violence or in any way in an unlawful manner, it is the duty of the law enforcement officers and the courts under the present law to prevent such picketing from going beyond the lawful limits. Too often the public mind is given the picture of lawful picketing as embracing the right to obstruct highways, to waylay workers, to barricade entrances to plants and like forcible and unlawful measures, but the fact of the matter is that such acts are at present unlawful and may be restrained and prevented under the present law.

Peaceful industrial relations are desired by all loyal and right thinking citizens. But this can not be accomplished by class legislation, such as this bill, which would deprive organized groups of workers of their fundamental economic and constitutional rights.

If this bill were to go on our statute books, operations under it would, in my humble judgment, foment unprecedented industrial strife in our State, interrupting beyond any previous experience the normal course of industry and commerce. I fear that injunctions issued under it would be disrespected by organized workers affected as unconstitutional and discriminating, and dislocations in industrial relations would be greatly increased.

It would delay the complete realization of the fundamental rights of employees and the responsibilities which go with these rights. Our need is for better understanding between employers and employees of their rights and responsibilities, and closer cooperation for the betterment of both and for service to the public; mediation and conciliation services, instead of laws like this bill, which would only agitate and arouse bitterness and antagonism between labor and management.

I am thoroughly aware of the urgency which faces California labor, industry and agriculture in fulfilling their commitments and their patriotic duties in the National Defense Program.

Lockouts and strikes, particularly in the defense industries, seriously conflict with the National purpose to rapidly and adequately turn out defense armaments. The security of the Nation can not and should not be jeopardized by the exercise of these economic weapons, and the citizens of California can not be expected, at this juncture in the Nation's affairs, to look with favor upon stoppages in defense preparedness work over disputes between labor and management.

The President has called for National unity. He has asked labor and management in defense industries to accept the recommendations of the National Board of Conciliation in the settlement of their differences and to keep all work going. It is my conviction that California management and labor will respond patriotically to that duty, and I shall continue my efforts to make that response complete throughout the State.

Respectfully submitted.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, May 27, 1941

To the Senate and Assembly of the State of California

GREETINGS: In my Budget Message to you on January 24, 1941, I pointed out that the capital outlays recommended in the Budget for the next biennium included only those "must" items requiring immediate attention; calling your attention, however, to the fact that the State Government is badly in need of additional buildings and that there are many capital outlays which should be undertaken at the proper time as a part of a long term building program to be formulated after a careful survey of the housing needs of the State Government and its institutions.

Such a survey has been made and a program formulated covering the needs for capital construction, improvements, and equipment at the State hospitals, homes, correctional schools, prisons, State colleges, State schools, veterans' homes, California National Guard, University of California, and State office buildings, and extending the construction over a period of 10 years, which I herewith present to you.

This building program, with the exception of that for the University of California, has been prepared by the Department of Public Works and the Director of Finance, after consultations with representatives of each of the several agencies listed in the program. The proposed outlays for the University of California were prepared by the university under the direction of the Board of Regents. The entire program has my approval. This 10 Year Building Program makes provision for additional capacity for the contemplated normal increase in institutional population during each biennium, and also to relieve substantially all of the overcrowding now existing in the various State institutions. Similarly, provisions for increased enrollment in our State colleges has also been provided for in the program.

The items for each agency are listed in the order of their relative importance as to first requirements.

Included in this building program are provisions for State office buildings in several cities throughout the State, for which there is pressing need and which consideration of economy requires. The State is now paying $967,700 annually for rented office space in privately-owned buildings. While in some places where space is rented it would not be economical for the State to construct permanent buildings because of the temporary nature of the services rendered or because the space required is nominal, efficiency and economy would be served by the construction of the buildings proposed in this plan for State offices in many of the larger localities where State offices are permanently maintained.

In Sacramento the State is now paying $417,800 annually for rented office space in privately-owned buildings. The Department of Employment and the Department of Social Welfare are both in need of additional space not now available in State-owned buildings. In this building program provision is made for the purchase of a site and construction of a Social Security Building to house both the Department of Employment and the Department of Social Welfare. The cost of this building will be reimbursed to the State by the Federal Government over a period of 45 years through payment of rent. Upon construction of a Social Security Building, the old Public Works Building at Eleventh and P Streets in Sacramento will be available for some of the other State agencies now occupying rented space in privately-owned buildings.

In Los Angeles the State is paying $238,200 annually for rented office space. This building program provides for the construction of an additional office building there.

In the second biennial period of this proposed 10-Year Building Program, an additional office building is provided for San Francisco, where the State is now paying $236,200 annually for rented space in privately-owned buildings.

In the third biennial period a new office building is provided for Oakland, and a new office building for Fresno. In Oakland the State is expending $47,000 annually for rented office space and in Fresno $32,000 annually.

In the fourth biennial period an additional office building is provided for Sacramento to further eliminate the need for rented space in privately-owned buildings.

In the fifth biennial period an office building is provided for San Diego, where the present annual rental for State office space in privately-owned buildings is $27,000 annually, and an office building is provided for San Jose, where the annual rental paid is $19,700.

In my Budget Message to you I stated "Whether we should enter upon a construction program at this time in competition with the Federal Government's Program of Defense Construction is a question meriting your immediate and serious study." It is evident now that economic activities within our State will reach new levels during the coming two years. After that time the problem of unemployment will again become as burdensome and as acute in all of its manifestations as ever before, if not more so.

I am convinced that the State, except for those items of construction which are mandatory, should not undertake construction at this time in competition with the Federal Government's National Defense Construction Program, nor until the Federal Government has substantially completed its construction activities. A similar recommendation has been made by the Federal Director of the Bureau of Budget. The Director of the Bureau of Budget of the United States Government recently requested all public agencies to delay their construction activities until after the National emergency has passed.

Therefore, in submitting this State Building Construction Program for your consideration, I respectfully recommend that if it shall meet with your approval, it be adopted by appropriate legislation and that the amount required for the first biennial period of this program be appropriated with this provision: That this appropriation shall not be available for expenditure until July 1, 1943, unless a State Building Commission, composed of the Governor, the Director of Public Works, the State Controller, the State Director of Education, the Director of the Department of Employment, the Director of Finance, and the President of the University of California, determines and certifies to the Secretary of State that unemployment exists in the building and construction trades, and that the State should undertake immediately that portion of the construction program provided for by this appropriation which will assist in relieving such unemployment conditions, and that upon this certification the Department of Public Works shall proceed with the construction.

There are bills available in the Legislature making blank appropriations to all State agencies, which can be used to carry out the above recommendations.

To make the plan effective, it is essential that an appropriation be made for the support of the Division of Architecture in the amount of 3.95 per cent of whatever sum, except that for the University of California, is appropriated for construction. This appropriation for the Division of Architecture will be used during the next two-year period in making the necessary survey and preparing building plans and specifications so that sufficiently prior to July 1, 1943, unless the State Building Commission so designated makes money available sooner, the Division of Archi-ecture may call for bids in time for all construction projects to begin immediately after that date.

Respectfully submitted.

REPORT OF SPECIAL INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE

The following report, submitted by the Special Senate Investigating Committee appointed pursuant to Senate Resolution No. 104, was ordered printed in the Journal:

May 27, 1941

To the President and Members of the State Senate of California

Your committee appointed and authorized by Senate Resolution No. 104 to investigate the question of coercion, intimidation, also supposedly fraudulent telegrams sent March 26th and 27th last by certain individuals and unions from San Diego to the legislators representing San Diego County; Senator Fletcher, Assemblymen Daley, Stream and Richie report as follows:

We held two public meetings, one in San Diego Friday afternoon and evening, May 16th, also one in Sacramento Wednesday afternoon, May 21st last. We subpoenaed approximately 138 members of different unions in San Diego whose names were attached to certain telegrams sent. Seventy-eight individuals, union members, testified. Twenty-eight subpoenaed were unknown at the address given on the telegrams received, and the deputy reported they could not be found in the directory, telephone or otherwise. Thirty-two were out of town on vacation, or could not be located within a 48 hour notice. All witnesses were put under oath.

The superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph Company at San Diego, Mr. Topham, and his assistant, Mr. Parker, testified that within the 24 hour period March 26th and 27th last, 5,280 telegrams were sent by them to the four legislators above mentioned, on five forms of wording at a cost of $4,252.67, charged to and paid for by the Federated Trades & Labor Council on orders of Mr. K. G. Bitter of the council, who furnished to the Western Union Telegraph Company the five forms, marked exhibits 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6. From time to time Mr. Bitter sent lists of names and their street address to be signed to each telegram, copies of each to be sent to the four legislators; also what numbered form of telegram to use in each case. The Labor Leader, a weekly labor paper, of April 2d, stated that 6,800 telegrams were sent by union members on the 26th and 27th of March last to the San Diego County representatives protesting the passage of Senate Bill No. 877 known as the "Hot Cargo" and Secondary "Boycott" Bill. Also Senate Bill No. 975 and other bills. These telegrams were received two days after Senate Bills Nos. 877 and 975 had passed the State Senate.

On March 27th Senator Fletcher, Mrs. Daley and Mr. Stream each received telegrams from James A. Thompson, business representative, International Union of Operating Engineers Local 526, via Postal Telegraph Company, reading as follows:

"Membership of Local 526 Stationary Engineers voted unanimously at special meeting tonight to detail our membership to go into the district and work for defeat of any Senator or Assemblyman who votes for Assembly Bill No. 1545, Senate Bills Nos. 180, 877, 974, 975, 976, 560. We urgently request your vote against these vicious anti-labor bills."

Mr. James E. Chewning and his assistant, Mr. M. D. Hancock, manager and assistant manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, under oath, testified that the last mentioned telegrams were sent on orders of James A. Thompson, also the telegrams were charged to and paid for by the International Union of Operating Engineers Local 526.

Of the 78 union members who testified before your committee last Friday, three stated they had given authority to allow the placing of their names on the telegrams to each of the four State representatives from San Diego. Five stated the officials of the union said they thought they had the right to send such individual telegrams and sign their names when for the good of the union, even without their knowledge or consent in advance, irrespective of what was included in the telegrams. Sixty-eight union members stated they had no knowledge of, nor had ever given their consent to allow the use of their names in relation to the telegrams sent. Many union men, under oath and by written communication, now officially in the records, protested and resented the use of their names very forcefully. Three following communications are typical of many received: For obvious reasons we do not attach the name of the union members. (Sent to Senator Fletcher).

No. 1—"I did not send a telegram and did not pay for it. Did not even know one was sent in my name. I only belong to gang of mobsters No. 1296 BTC known as a carpenter's union because it is the only way a man can work on our defense program. Be glad to discuss this subject with you when you come home."

No. 2—"I did not send this telegram, and I am sure the views are not my own. I am for anything that will get the rackets out of labor unions. Defense of U. S. A. is first and foremost."

No. 3—"I did not send this telegram. I did not pay for it. I knew nothing of this. They spent over $4,000 I've been told for telegrams. We pay for it. I am glad someone is looking into this."

The testimony shows that out of approximately 1,400 who sent the 6,000 or more telegrams a post card from them in reply shows that only 102 knew the telegrams were sent and approved before being sent, while over 150 completely denied ever having knowledge of or authorizing the sending of said telegrams. Messrs. Edward F. Pierce and K. G. Bitter offered to testify voluntarily, but as the testimony given showed they were possibly involved, the committee took under advisement the question of allowing these two gentlemen to testify under oath until we could consult our legal counsel as to the possibility of these gentlemen claiming immunity afterward. Mr. Fred Wood, our legal counsel, upheld our action in San Diego in refusing to allow them to testify. Our letter of Mr. Wood of May 19th, and his official opinion as of that date, is herewith attached, and made an official record thereof. On May 22d last, with the approval of Mr. Fred Wood, we telegraphed Messrs. Pierce and Bitter, that they could, if they so desired, send immediately a statement to us in connection with the investigation, under their own signature; the intention of the committee being to include it in the record. Messrs. Pierce and Bitter refused to take advantage of this offer.

At the hearing in Sacramento May 21st, Mrs. Daley, and Messrs. Stream and Richie acknowledged having received approximately 4,000 telegrams on the twenty-seventh of March last. These telegrams were similar in form to those received by Senator Fletcher.

Conclusion

Based on the opinions of the Legislative Counsel herewith attached, your committee are of the opinion that three laws have been violated: Those directed against coercion, intimidation and forgery. We attach copy of the original transcript of testimony taken of both meetings; also copies of exhibits, and recommend that the original report and exhibits be kept with the Secretary of State Senate for safe keeping.

We are of the opinion that those in authority should check as to whether a law has been violated by the telegraph companies in the receiving and sending of these telegrams. We recommend legislation that will put teeth in the present laws which will convince all lobbyists of the futility of trying to influence Legislators by such methods. We recommend the adoption of this report; also that a copy of the testimony and exhibits be placed by the Secretary of the Senate in the hands of the Attorney General of California, the district attorney and grand jury of the County of San Diego, and recommend that they take such action as to them the evidence warrants.

Respectfully submitted,

SENATOR BIGGAR
SENATOR CARTER
SENATOR FLETCHER, Chairman

DATED: May 22, 1941

Since writing this report I have received a letter from a Union man who testified at the recent hearing, that his union officials have demanded he resign on account of his testimony at the recent hearing. This would indicate that reprisals have started.

The following remarks by Senator Slater were ordered printed in the Journal:

It is particularly appropriate that we pause at this time to pay tribute to this impressive National day—Decoration Day. It is fitting we again recall the inception of this annual National observance. It remembers those who fought and those who died in the preservation of our beloved land, following the great principles of Liberty and Democracy which made us a Nation.

In loving thought we turn back the pages of memory to the first Decoration Day and its continuing message throughout the years until this day, when once more we find opportunity for counselling together to the end that we must again preserve this great land, not only from the interference from wreckers from within but to defend ourselves in every way from threatened merciless attacks from without.

As we raise the Old Flag again above the passionless graves of the heroes of the Civil War and of subsequent conflicts for the preservation of Democracy, recount the deeds of patriotism and the calling into action of our brave Soldiers and Sailors, while we bring our flowers and our prayers and our tears in common token of appreciation, may we reconsecrate our lives and our all to the perpetuation of love, liberty and the pursuit of happiness in this great land of opportunity, this last bulwark of Democracy. We accept the challenge to meet the hour. This shall be our tribute to those who were willing to make the supreme sacrifice for us.

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered:

By Senator Dillinger:

Senate Resolution No. 123

WHEREAS, This is the day set aside to honor our Soldier dead; and

WHEREAS, It is a fitting and proper time to acknowledge our deep and eternal debt of gratitude for the heritage bequeathed to us, and won by so great a sacrifice; and

WHEREAS, We do this day acknowledge our grave responsibility as citizens and especially as the makers of the law, to discharge that responsibility, with humility and earnest honesty; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we stand at attention in respect to our honored Soldier dead; also in honor of the mothers of the men who died in defense of our Country; that we voice a fervent prayer that those men may not have died in vain; that God in His infinite wisdom and goodness may give us peace, and that when we do this day adjourn we do so in honor of our Soldier dead.

Resolution read, and unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

At 10.50 a.m., Hon. Wm. P. Rich, President pro tempore of the Senate, presiding.
